PURPOSE OF THE LEGISLATION

H. Res. 592 is a resolution to support first responders in the United States in their efforts to prepare for and respond to natural disasters, acts of terrorism, and other man made disasters, and to affirm the goals and ideals of National First Responder Appreciation Day.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

Millions of Americans have benefited from the brave and courageous service of first responders across the Nation. Approximately 670,000 police officers, 1,100,000 firefighters and 891,000 emergency medical technicians make up the nation's first responder teams and have responded to crises such as Hurricane Katrina in 2005; tornadoes in Florida and blizzards in Colorado in 2006; the Gunflint Trail fire in northeastern Minnesota in May 2007 and the Interstate 35W bridge collapse in August 2007.

According to the National Law Enforcement Officers Memorial Fund, a total of 1,649 law enforcement officers died in the line of duty during the past 10 years, while 145 law enforcement officers were killed in 2006. According to the United States Fire Administration, from 1996 through 2005 more than 1,500 firefighters were killed in the line of duty, and tens of thousands were injured.

The resolution supports the goals and ideals of National First Responder Appreciation Day.

SUMMARY OF THE LEGISLATION

H. Res. 592 supports the work of first responders, identifies incidences at which first responders served with distinction and bravery, and reaffirms the goals and ideals of a National First Responder Appreciation Day.
