TRIBUTE TO FLOYD AND ALMA
 BOSTICK ON THE CELEBRATION
 OF THEIR 60TH WEDDING ANNI-VERSARY

HON. DONALD M. PAYNE

OF NEW JERSEY

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 23, 2009

Mr. PAYNE. Madam Speaker, I ask my colleagues here in the House of Representatives to join me as I rise to congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Floyd and Alma Bostick on their 60th wedding anniversary. A celebration in their honor is being held on Sunday, June 21, 2009 at the Pines Manor in Edison, New Jersey.

Floyd Bostick, Jr. and the former Alma Lorraine Webb were married in Atlanta, Georgia on March 28, 1949. This blessed union produced three children, nine grandchildren and ten great-grandchildren. The Bosticks made their home in Newark before moving to Westfield, New Jersey in 1966. Mr. Bostick retired from the Newark Police Department where he was the founder of the Bronze Shields. Mrs. Bostick retired from the United States Immigration Department as a Special Agent. They still work as entrepreneurs with a specialty in exquisitely designed jewelry.

Mr. and Mrs. Bostick are wonderful, loving people and they celebrate their faith at the St. John's Baptist Church in Scotch Plains where Mrs. Bostick is the President of the Women's Guild Ministry. This couple embodies the spirit of matrimony and serves as role models for younger couples who are striving to have long successful marriages.

Madam Speaker, I know my colleagues join me in letting Mr. and Mrs. Fred and Alma Bostick's family, friends and congregation know that their 60th anniversary is indeed a cause for celebration.

IN HONOR OF FAY KANIN

HON. HENRY A. WAXMAN

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 23, 2009

Mr. WAXMAN. Madam Speaker, it is my pleasure to recognize the extraordinary leadership of Fay Kanin, Chair of the Library of Congress National Film Preservation Board. On June 24, 2009 the Library of Congress will honor Fay for her leadership and assistance to Congress and the Library in their efforts to promote public awareness of the need to preserve America's unparalleled film heritage.

Since 1989, Fay Kanin has served with distinction as the Chair of the National Film Preservation Board, a congressionally-mandated advisory body to the Librarian of Congress. The Board, under her leadership, has assisted the Librarian of Congress in educating Americans about the diversity of our nation's film heritage and highlighted the importance of preservation and the intensive efforts required to safeguard our irreplaceable movie heritage.

During her illustrious career as a writer, playwright and producer on the Broadway stage, in television and in Hollywood, Fay Kanin has earned acclaim for works as diverse as Goodbye My Fancy, Teacher's Pet, Tell Me Where It Hurts, Friendly Fire, Heat of Anger, and Heartsounds. She has received an Academy Award nomination, two Emmy Awards, additional Emmy nominations, the Edmund H. North Award from the Writers Guild of America, a Golden Globe nomination, the Humanitas Prize Kieser Award, the Crystal Award of Women in Film, the Peabody Award, and a Tony nomination.

Ms. Kanin has been a leader and a pioneer in the Hollywood community, serving four terms from 1979 to 1983 as the second female president in the history of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences. She has given years of service to the Hollywood community as a member of the Academy's Board of Governors, President of the Academy Foundation, and President of the Screen Branch of the Writers Guild of America.

I ask my colleagues to join me in recognizing Fay Kanin for her twenty years of service to the film preservation efforts of the Library of Congress, and her decades of contributions to the Hollywood community and the nation.

SUPPORTING THE NATIONAL BIO-AND AGRO-DEFENSE FACILITY

HON. LYNN JENKINS

OF KANSAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 23, 2009

Ms. JENKINS. Madam Speaker, I rise today in support of the National Bio- and Agro-Defense Facility, also known as the NBAF. After September 11, former-President Bush issued a security directive to increase our nation's capacity for animal disease research to protect our food supply as well as defend our agriculture and public health against disease outbreaks.

This directive could not come too soon, as the H1N1 pandemic is testament to the need for such high-level disease research and the impacts such outbreaks have on individuals in the United States and also around the world. The current facility at Plum Island is aging and cannot keep pace with today's needs.

DHS conducted an exhaustive, three-year search for the best site to relocate the facility. In January, the Department completed its search and finalized Kansas State University in Manhattan, Kansas as the site selection.

The so-called animal health corridor, stretching from Manhattan to Columbia, Missouri, is home to more than one-third of the animal health industry, involving more than 120 companies. Additionally, Kansas State has an internationally recognized animal health research expertise and with existing research infrastructure, including the Biosecurity Research Institute and the National Agricultural Biosecurity Center. DHS chose the right place for NBAF, and now, we must work to complete the construction process.

This project is critical to the protection of our food supply and public health which is why we cannot afford to delay it. Madam Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting the construction of NBAF in Kansas.

IN MEMORY OF WARREN H.
 ABERNATHY

HON. JOE WILSON

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, June 23, 2009

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Yesterday, South Carolina lost a longtime friend and leader of our state, Colonel Warren H. Abernathy. A native of Spartanburg, South Carolina, Mr. Abernathy will always be revered as the right-hand confidant of the late Senator Strom Thurmond. I learned firsthand as a Thurmond intern in 1967 of his devotion and loyalty to Senator Thurmond.

The eulogy below was thoughtfully written by Jason Spencer in today's Spartanburg Herald-Journal:

THURMOND'S RIGHT-HAND MAN DIES IN SPARTANBURG

South Carolina lost a keen mind, public servant and power broker in state and national politics early Monday with the death of Warren H. Abernathy. He was 85.

Abernathy, of 111 Hillbrook Drive, is often described as the late Sen. Strom Thurmond's right-hand man, someone who worked tirelessly behind the scenes.

The dynamic between the two was that they were of one mind. Thurmond was the public face; Abernathy, the private man. He stood in the background almost any time a newspaper photographer was around. He turned down offers to write books, or to be the subject of one.

"He was the man in the shadow. And he liked that," said daughter Marcia Duncan of Gaffney. "He never wanted to run for political office. He said he liked what he was doing, and that he was supporting someone who could make a difference in South Carolina."

Thurmond, while governor in the 1940s, hired a young Abernathy after the late S.C. Supreme Court Chief Justice Bruce Littlejohn introduced them. He would later serve as Thurmond's state manager, overseeing four offices, and as secretary-treasurer of the Strom Thurmond Foundation.

He worked with Thurmond for nearly half a century.
