PURPOSE AND SUMMARY

H.R. 4329, the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Reauthorization Act of 2014, reauthorizes the Native American Housing Assistance Self Determination Act of 1996 (NAHASDA) for five years through 2018 and amends the law to address housing needs for Native American tribal governments.

H.R. 4329 (1) strengthens vital taxpayer protections and tribal accountability by providing the Secretary of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) the authority to recoup unexpended funds; (2) allows for tribes to pursue alternative funding sources by encouraging private investment; and (3) provides Native American tribal governments with greater efficiencies when deploying NAHASDA funds.

H.R. 4329 seeks to modernize regulations or statutes that, over time, were deemed ineffective, outdated or excessive. For example, as noted in a March 2014 Government Accountability Office (GAO) report entitled Native American Housing: Additional Actions Needed to Better Support Tribal Efforts,¹ when NAHASDA funds are combined with other federal funds on a project, the NAHASDA regulations require the grant recipient to follow each federal agency's separate requirements. H.R. 4329 consolidates the environmental review requirements on affordable housing developments under a single environmental review when NAHASDA funding is no less than 51 percent of the total federal funding of the grant recipient. Moreover, the bill requires the HUD Secretary to study and recommend to Congress standards and procedures to streamline and simplify the Indian Housing Plans (IHPs), an annual plan NAHASDA grant-recipients are required to submit each year detailing their goals and objectives to be met during the grant year.

H.R. 4329 establishes a demonstration program for no more than twenty (20) NAHASDA grant-recipients to seek private investment and management when meeting their housing needs. The Committee is encouraged by the increased access to capital through financial institutions that has resulted from opening access for tribes to Section 184 loan guarantees under the Housing and Community Development Act of 1992. Access to capital continues to be one of the greatest obstacles to housing development on tribal lands, whether it be at the individual level or project development level. The Committee believes continuing to develop alternative sources of capital for use in developing tribal lands is critical to meeting the original intent of NAHASDA.

The demonstration program created by this title builds upon the success of the Military Housing Privatization Initiative in 1996, which created a public-private partnership to meet housing needs on military installations nationwide. Today, less than 20 years after its inception, a majority of the housing on military installations has been constructed or modified thanks to this program. In hopes of emulating the success of the military's housing program, H.R. 4329 provides for a public-private partnership program that would allow tribes to address housing shortages through large development projects. The demonstration allows the tribes to use funds allocated under NAHASDA as leverage and payment for the completion of these projects in conjunction with private industry. While the Committee believes in greater self-determination, it is also committed to protecting taxpayers from fraud and abuse. Accordingly, the demonstration program requires an oversight review and approval of any development project created under this Act. The legislation outlines safeguards to protect both the tribes and private investors from fraud and abuse and to ensure that minimum housing standards and requirements are met. Moreover, each development will be required to define the metrics that will assist in showing the successes and weaknesses in the demonstration program. Five years after enactment of this Act, HUD would be required to report to Congress outlining the effectiveness of the demonstration and make recommendations on how to leverage tribal resources for private capital investment and participation.

As of September 30, 2014, there was $499,470,516 in expended, unobligated NAHASDA funds, meaning these funds have been disbursed by HUD to the tribes but not yet spent. The Committee recognizes that housing development, like other forms of capital development, can be a multi-year process and NAHASDA recipients should be allowed a reasonable time in which to plan for and expend their funding. However, the program's slow spend-out rate raises questions as to whether some of the tribes receiving NAHASDA funds have the capacity to deploy these funds in a timely and efficient manner. The Administration's FY2015 budget proposal requested statutory changes to allow a one-time recoupment of those obligated unexpended NAHASDA funds that exceed the total of three times the recipient's annual grant. The House approved this proposal on June 10, 2014, when passing the Fiscal Year 2015 Transportation, Housing and Urban Development Appropriations Bill.² H.R. 4329 would codify the Administration's proposal as an annual recoupment process for those grant recipients who receive more than $5 million annually and are provided an opportunity to justify their strategy of leaving NAHASDA funds unexpended for a long period of time.

BACKGROUND AND NEED FOR LEGISLATION

NAHASDA is a federal grant and loan guarantee program that provides affordable housing assistance to Native American tribes. Tribes spend these funds to provide affordable housing assistance for their low-income members living on or near Native American tribal lands or areas. NAHASDA is administered by HUD's Office of Native American Programs (ONAP). Congress first authorized NAHASDA in 1996 to streamline the multiple channels of housing assistance provided to Native Americans by combining several federal housing assistance programs into two: (1) the Indian Housing Block Grant (IHBG) program, which is a formula-based grant program; and (2) the Title VI Tribal Housing Activities Loan Guarantee Program, which guarantees private loans to Indian tribes to develop affordable housing. NAHASDA was first funded by Congress in 1998 and the annual funding level for NAHASDA is approximately $650 million. NAHASDA's authorization expired September 30, 2013, and the program is currently receiving appropriations without authorization.

NAHASDA is designed to advance the following statutory objectives:

1. Assisting and promoting affordable housing activities to develop, maintain, and operate affordable housing in safe and healthy environments on Indian reservations and in other Indian areas for occupancy by low-income Indian families;
2. Ensuring better access to private mortgage markets for Indian tribes and their members and promoting self-sufficiency of Indian tribes and their members;

²United States House of Representatives, H.R. 4745, 113th Congress, passed June 10, 2014, <https://www.congress.gov/113/bills/hr4745/BILLS-113hr4745pcs.pdf>

3. Coordinating activities to provide housing for Indian tribes and their members with federal, state, and local activities to further economic and community development for Indian tribes and their members;

4. Planning for and integrating infrastructure resources with housing development for Indian tribes; and

5. Promoting the development of private capital markets in Indian country for the benefit of Indian communities.

Entities eligible to receive NAHASDA funds are federally recognized Indian tribes, with the exception of five state-recognized tribes that participated in federal housing programs under the 1937 Housing Act. When HUD implemented NAHASDA, those five tribes were grandfathered into the program. According to the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA), a federally recognized tribe is an American Indian or Alaska Native tribal entity that has a government-to-government relationship with the United States and is eligible for BIA funding and services. Tribes may receive federal recognition (1) by an Act of Congress, (2) by the BIA through administrative procedures, or (3) by the decisions of a United States court. As of January 22, 2014, there were 566 federally recognized tribes in the United States.

Once tribes receive NAHASDA funds, they can use a range of approaches to provide homeownership and rental assistance to their tribal members. Tribes typically spend their NAHASDA funds on homeownership units for purchase through new construction, acquisition, or rehabilitation. Tribes also can construct, acquire, or rehabilitate new affordable rental housing for their tribal members, and tribes can provide tenant-based rental assistance for their low-income members (residents in these units pay up to 30 percent of their adjusted income in rent). Tribes have the ability to leverage NAHASDA funds by combining them with funds from other federal, state, local and private sources to support eligible program activities.

Families that are eligible to receive or benefit from NAHASDA-funded assistance are low-income Indian families, defined as Indian families residing on a reservation or in a tribal service area whose income does not exceed 80 percent of the area median income. Under specific and very limited circumstances, families residing on a reservation or in a tribal service area that are not Native American or low-income also are eligible to receive NAHASDA-funded assistance.

Prior to NAHASDA, Native American tribes received assistance for affordable housing under various federal programs aimed at providing housing assistance to low-income Native Americans. For example, tribes received housing development and modernization grants, public housing operating subsidies, and Section 8 rental assistance, which were authorized in the 1937 Housing Act. By combining federal housing assistance programs, NAHASDA sought to provide Native American tribes greater self-determination and self-governance by allowing them more authority over spending their federal affordable housing funds. With the enactment of NAHASDA, Indian tribes are no longer eligible to receive federal housing assistance under the 1937 Housing Act.

PERFORMANCE GOALS AND OBJECTIVES

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(4) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee states that H.R. 4329 will reauthorize NAHASDA through fiscal year 2018.

NEW BUDGET AUTHORITY, ENTITLEMENT AUTHORITY, AND TAX EXPENDITURES

In compliance with clause 3(c)(2) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the Committee adopts as its own the estimate of new budget authority, entitlement authority, or tax expenditures or revenues contained in the cost estimate prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

COMMITTEE COST ESTIMATE

The Committee adopts as its own the cost estimate prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974.

CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE ESTIMATES

Pursuant to clause 3(c)(3) of rule XIII of the Rules of the House of Representatives, the following is the cost estimate provided by the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 402 of the Congressional Budget Act of 1974:

U.S. CONGRESS,
CONGRESSIONAL BUDGET OFFICE,
Washington, DC, September 17, 2014.

Hon. JEB HENSARLING,
*Chairman, Committee on Financial Services,
House of Representatives, Washington, DC.*

DEAR MR. CHAIRMAN: The Congressional Budget Office has prepared the enclosed cost estimate for H.R. 4329, the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Reauthorization Act of 2014.

If you wish further details on this estimate, we will be pleased to provide them. The CBO staff contact is Chad Chirico.

Sincerely,

DOUGLAS W. ELMENDORF.

Enclosure.

H.R. 4329—Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Reauthorization Act of 2014

Summary: H.R. 4329 would reauthorize the Native American Block Grant and loan guarantee programs through fiscal year 2018. In addition, the bill would authorize a new set-aside program to provide rental assistance to Native American veterans who are homeless or at risk of homelessness. CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 4329 would cost about $2 billion over the 2015–2019 period, assuming appropriation of the necessary amounts.

Pay-as-you-go procedures do not apply to this legislation because it would not affect direct spending or revenues.

H.R. 4329 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act (UMRA).

Estimated cost to the Federal Government: The estimated budgetary impact of H.R. 4329 is shown in the following table. The costs of this legislation fall within budget function 600 (income security).

Basis of estimate: CBO estimates that implementing H.R. 4329 would cost about $2 billion over the next five years, assuming appropriation of the necessary funds. For this estimate, CBO assumes that H.R. 4329 will be enacted early in fiscal year 2015 and that appropriated funds will be spent at historical rates for the affected programs.

Native American Housing Block Grants

Section 301 would authorize the appropriation of $650 million annually for the Native American Housing Block Grant program through fiscal year 2018. The block grant program provides funding to tribes to acquire, construct, rehabilitate, or manage affordable housing for Native American families with low incomes. In 2014, $650 million was appropriated for this program. CBO estimates that implementing this section would cost nearly $2 billion over the 2015–2019 period.

Loan Guarantees for Indian housing

Section 502 would authorize the appropriation of $12.2 million annually through 2018 to guarantee loans to Native American families and tribes to construct, acquire or rehabilitate homes located on tribal land. In 2014, $6 million was appropriated for these guarantees. CBO estimates that implementing this section would cost $49 million over the 2015–2019 period.

Supportive housing for Native American veterans

Section 501 would authorize a program to provide rental assistance to Native American veterans who are homeless or at risk of homelessness. Each year 5 percent of the funds made available for the Veterans Affairs Supported Housing Program (VASH) would be set aside for Native American veterans. In 2014, $75 million was appropriated for the VASH program. Assuming a program level that is 5 percent of that amount, and adjusting for anticipated inflation, CBO estimates that implementing this section would cost $19 million over the 2015–2019 period.

Pay-As-You-Go considerations: None.

Intergovernmental and private-sector impact: H.R. 4329 contains no intergovernmental or private-sector mandates as defined in UMRA. Grants authorized in the bill would benefit tribal governments that participate in housing assistance programs. Any costs to those governments of complying with grant conditions would be incurred voluntarily.

Estimate prepared by: Federal costs: Chad Chirico; Impact on state, local, and tribal governments: J'nell Blanco Suchy; Impact on the private sector: Tristan Hanon.

Estimate approved by: Peter H. Fontaine; Assistant Director for Budget Analysis.

FEDERAL MANDATES STATEMENT

The Committee adopts as its own the estimate of Federal mandates prepared by the Director of the Congressional Budget Office pursuant to section 423 of the Unfunded Mandates Reform Act.

Pursuant to section 3(k) of H. Res. 5, 113th Cong. (2013), the Committee states that H.R. 4329 requires no directed rulemaking.

SECTION-BY-SECTION ANALYSIS OF THE LEGISLATION

Section 1. Short Title; Table of Contents. This section states that the short title is the “Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Reauthorization Act of 2014.”

Section 2. References. This section clarifies that all amendments contained in this bill refer to the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act of 1996, unless otherwise expressly provided.

TITLE I—BLOCK GRANTS AND GRANT REQUIREMENTS

Section 101: Block Grants. This section requires the HUD Secretary to act on a Local Cooperation Agreement waiver request within 60 days of its submission by a recipient of funding under the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act (NAHASDA). Local Cooperation Agreements, between the NAHASDA grant-recipient and local taxing body or government, exempt NAHASDA-funded rental and lease-to-purchase units from all real and personal taxes.

Section 102: Indian Housing Plans. This section requires the HUD Secretary to study and recommend to Congress standards and procedures to streamline and simplify Indian Housing Plans (IHPs), including recommendations that establish procedures for waiving the IHP or alternative reporting requirements, such as submitting multi-year IHPs. The IHP is an annual plan NAHASDA grant-recipients are required to submit each year detailing their goals and objectives to be met during the grant year.

Section 103: Environmental Review. This section requires the HUD Secretary to consolidate environmental review requirements under a single environmental review when NAHASDA funding is no less than 51 percent of the total federal funding source for the affordable housing development and the HUD Secretary determines the consolidation is not inconsistent with the goals of the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969; and requires the Secretary to act on environmental review waiver submissions within 60 days of receipt.

Section 104: Failure to Act on Request for Approval Regarding Exceeding TDC Maximum Costs for Project. This section establishes a 60-day period in which HUD must act on a recipient’s request to exceed the 10 percent maximum of total development cost; and provides a definition of total development costs as it relates to acquiring or rehabilitating affordable housing under NAHASDA.

TITLE II—AFFORDABLE HOUSING ACTIVITIES

Section 201: National Objectives and Eligible Families. This section exempts NAHASDA recipients from section 3 of the Housing and Urban Development Act of 1968, which requires Public Housing and Tribal Authorities to prioritize hiring and contracting with low-income individuals.

Section 202: Program Requirements. This section removes the requirement in current law that rent charged for a unit equal 30 percent of the tenant’s income in instances where the NAHASDA recipient has a written policy governing rents or homebuyer payments charged for housing units, and such policy includes a provision governing maximum rents or homebuyer payments.

Section 203: Homeownership or Lease-To-Own Low-Income Requirement and Income Targeting. This section clarifies that housing funded by NAHASDA meets the test for “affordable” housing if a family is, at the outset of tenancy, low-income, as defined by the Act, and its income status subsequently changes prior to the family converting its tenancy to homeownership or lease-to-own status; and prohibits a NAHASDA recipient from requiring a binding affordability commitment for any privately owned home that receives property improvements that do not exceed 10 percent of the total development costs for such home.

Section 204: Lease Requirements and Tenant Selection. This section clarifies that the owner or manager of NAHASDA-funded rental housing shall only utilize leases that require a specific notice period prior to the termination of the lease.

Section 205: Tribal Coordination of Agency Funding. This section allows NAHASDA recipients to coordinate funding from the Indian Health Service to construct sanitation facilities for housing construction and renovation projects.

TITLE III—ALLOCATION OF GRANT AMOUNTS

Section 301: Authorization of Appropriations. This section authorizes $650 million in appropriations for each of fiscal years 2014–2018 for the NAHASDA program.

Section 302: Effect of Undisbursed Block Grant Amounts On Annual Allocations. This section authorizes the HUD Secretary to recoup unexpended funds that exceed three times a yearly allocation for a NAHASDA recipient, with such identified funds reallocated to other eligible NAHASDA recipients; institutes a process by which recipients exceeding the maximum amount of funds have the ability to demonstrate due diligence to the Secretary prior to recoupment; and applies only to those NAHASDA recipients that receive an annual NAHASDA grant of more than $5 million.

TITLE IV—COMPLIANCE, AUDITS, AND REPORTS

Section 401: Review and Audit by Secretary. This section directs the HUD Secretary to issue a final audit report on a NAHASDA recipient within 60 days after the subject of the audit has had an opportunity to review and comment on the report, as provided by law.

Section 402: Reports to Congress. This section requires the HUD Secretary to provide copies of HUD’s statutorily required annual report on progress made in accomplishing the objectives of the Act, and a summary of the use of the Act’s funds, to each NAHASDA recipient and to Congress.

TITLE V—OTHER HOUSING ASSISTANCE FOR NATIVE AMERICANS

Section 501: HUD-Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing Program for Native American Veterans. This section authorizes HUD to create a rental assistance program for Native American veterans modeled on the HUD-Veterans Affairs Supportive Housing (HUD-VASH) program; and provides a 5 percent set aside from within the VASH funds for the creation of this program.

Section 502: Loan Guarantees for Indian Housing. This section authorizes $12.2 million in appropriations for each of fiscal years 2014–2018 for the Loan Guarantees for Indian Housing program (also known as the Section 184 program), which will support a loan guarantee authority of $976 million.

TITLE VI—MISCELLANEOUS

Section 601: Lands Title Report Commission. This section amends the American Homeownership and Economic Opportunity Act of 2000 by eliminating the requirement that funds in advance of appropriations be provided before the Indian Lands Title Report Commission may become operational.

Section 602: Limitation on the use of Funds for Cherokee Nation. This section updates current law to reflect legal contingencies involving a membership dispute between the Cherokee Nation and the Cherokee Freedmen at the U.S. District Court.

Section 603: Leasehold Interest In Trust or Restricted Lands For Housing Purposes. This section allows for 99-year leases on tribal lands and grandfathers current leases into the 99-year requirement.

Section 604: Clerical Amendment. This section updates the Table of Contents of the Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act of 1996.

TITLE VII—DEMONSTRATION PROGRAM FOR ALTERNATIVE
PRIVATIZATION AUTHORITY FOR NATIVE AMERICAN HOUSING

Section 701: Demonstration Program. This section creates a new Title IX, within NAHASDA, authorizing a demonstration project on greater tribal self-determination and private investment when meeting housing needs.

- Sec. 901: Authority. This section provides additional authority to tribes that participate in the demonstration project and exempts participating tribes from other unrelated provisions of NAHASDA.

- Sec. 902: Participating Tribes. This section limits the demonstration project to twenty tribes and sets forth eligibility for the program, including a cooperative agreement between the participating tribe and HUD.

- Sec. 903: Request for Quotes and Selection of Investor Partners. This section sets forth the process by which the participating tribe must show due diligence in selection of an investor group. Included in these steps is an assessment of the housing needs on participating tribes' land.

- Sec. 904: Final Plan. This section requires participating tribes to provide HUD with a completed proposal for construction of housing needs on tribal land, known as a "Final Plan," and sets forth what must be included within that plan, as well as the requirements that apply to the investor partnering with the tribe.

- Sec. 905: HUD Review and Approval of Plan. This section sets forth the review and approval process HUD must follow when communicating with participating tribes and requires HUD to provide detailed information to tribes who have had their Final Plans denied or altered.

- Sec. 906: Treatment of NAHASDA Allocation. This section prescribes that allocations made to tribes in the demonstration project shall be reserved for use in housing infrastructure, administrative expenses, and equity for private investment.

- Sec. 907: Resale of Affordable Housing. This section authorizes participating tribes to resell any affordable housing developed under this act, so long as the tribe is meeting its affordable housing needs, and has the ability to meet future affordable housing needs.
- Sec. 908: Reports, Audits, and Compliance. This section requires participating tribes and HUD to provide annual reports on the progress of the demonstration project and sets forth requirements for HUD audits of participating tribes.
- Sec. 909: Termination of Tribal Participation. This section allows tribes to withdraw from the demonstration project at any time so long as they maintain any legal agreements with investors that participated under the demonstration project.
- Sec. 910: Final Report. This section requires a HUD report, five years after enactment, on whether the demonstration project should be expanded into a permanent program.
- Sec. 911: Definitions. This section provides for various definitions applicable to NAHASDA and this Act.
- Sec. 912: Notice. This section requires the HUD Secretary to carry out the demonstration project by notice published in the Federal Register.

MINORITY VIEWS

H.R. 4329, THE “NATIVE AMERICAN HOUSING ASSISTANCE AND SELF-DETERMINATION ACT (NAHASDA)”

The Native American Housing Assistance and Self-Determination Act (NAHASDA) provides critical funding for tribal residents that are in need of safe and affordable housing. However, this reauthorization bill includes several changes to NAHASDA that are harmful to program recipients. In particular, H.R. 4329 would do away with the 30 percent maximum rent requirement, would fail to ensure that Cherokee Freedmen and Native Hawaiians remain beneficiaries of the Act, and would create a questionable new demonstration program.

The 30 percent maximum rent requirement, or the “Brooke rule”, is a longstanding federal housing policy that limits a tenant’s rent to 30 percent of their gross adjusted income, which is widely considered the benchmark for housing affordability. The Brooke rule was enacted in 1969, and has been a requirement of NAHASDA since its inception. H.R. 4329 would waive the Brooke rule for recipients of NAHASDA without any limitations or hardship exemptions, which could have devastating impacts on children, families, and seniors.

H.R. 4329 would further fail to ensure that the Cherokee Freedmen remain beneficiaries of NAHASDA. The Cherokee Freedmen are the descendants of former African-American slaves of the Cherokees. In 1866, the Cherokee Nation signed a treaty with the U.S. granting the Freedmen “all the rights of Native Cherokees.” However, for over a decade, the Cherokee Nation has been attempting to expel the Freedmen from its citizenry, which would leave the Freedmen without fundamental rights such as the right to vote, and without access to critical services including health care and housing. This issue is currently being litigated in federal court. If the case is decided against the Freedmen, H.R. 4329 would do nothing to protect them. The Freedmen would be stripped of their Cherokee citizenship and any benefits of NAHASDA. NAHASDA funding to the Cherokee Nation should be contingent upon the tribe’s full compliance with the 1866 treaty, and full recognition of the Freedmen as Cherokee citizens.

This reauthorization bill would also exclude Native Hawaiians, who have been beneficiaries of NAHASDA since 2000. H.R. 4329 fails to reauthorize the Native Hawaiian programs despite the dire housing needs among the Native Hawaiian population.

Finally, H.R. 4329 would create a new demonstration program that moves towards the privatization and deregulation of NAHASDA. The demonstration would allow participating tribes to use their block grant funds to guarantee a return on private investment into affordable housing activities. Tribes that choose to participate in this demonstration would be exempted from a long list of NAHASDA requirements, including critical tenant protection provisions. The demonstration lacks any sort of hardship exemptions for affected tenants and rigorous third party evaluation. NAHASDA funding should be prioritized to house families most in need, not to guarantee profit to private investors.

During consideration of H.R. 4329, Democrats offered several amendments to address the issues outlined above, but they were each rejected by the Republicans. Ranking Member Waters offered two amendments, one to strike the provision in the bill regarding the Brooke rule, and one to make funding to the Cherokee Nation contingent upon their full compliance with the Treaty of 1866, and full recognition of the Freedmen as Cherokee citizens. Representative Moore offered an amendment that would reauthorize the Native Hawaiian programs. Lastly, Representative Kildee offered an amendment to strike the demonstration program from the bill. Each of these amendments was rejected on a party-line vote.

While Democrats fully support reauthorization of NAHASDA, we remain disappointed that H.R. 4329, in its current form, fails to address these critical concerns. Moving forward, we urge the House to allow for an amendment process that will allow for meaningful consideration of these issues.
