

why our Founding Fathers created a system of checks and balances. That is why we have a loyal opposition. That is why we negotiate. But, Mr. Speaker, there comes a time for closure. That time is now.

The picture is coming into focus, Mr. Speaker. One side wants a balanced budget by a date certain; the other side is not even certain about a date. On the one side is Congress, including, as these folks will not tell you, 48 Members of their own conference intent on balancing the budget in 7 years. On the other side is the President.

Mr. President, it is time to come to the table. Do not pick up your walking stick; come join us now and negotiate this 7-year balanced budget. Our children are counting on us.

NAFTA ACCOUNTABILITY ACT TO MEASURE AGREEMENT'S IMPACT

(Ms. KAPTUR asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. KAPTUR. Mr. Speaker, today my colleagues and I introduce the NAFTA Accountability Act of 1995 to stand up for the thousands and thousands of workers across our country who are being terminated.

NAFTA promised our country a $12 billion trade surplus. This year we will rack up an historic $40 billion deficit with our two trading partners on the continent. NAFTA promised our people 200,000 new jobs.

It has already cost us over 300,000 lost jobs: Like 3,200 workers at Fruit of the Loom in Alabama, Louisiana, Kentucky, and North Carolina; like 200 workers at Emerson Electric in Indiana; like 120 workers at Alcatel Data Networks in New Jersey; like 127 workers at American Manufacturing Co. in Alabama; like 130 workers at Data Products in Georgia; like 220 workers at Woolrich, Inc. in Pennsylvania; like 340 workers at Oxford Industries in Georgia; like 245 workers at Sara Lee in Georgia.

Mr. Speaker, we will continue the list as the week moves on.

TIME FOR THE PRESIDENT TO COMMIT TO A BALANCED BUDGET

(Mr. NORWOOD asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. NORWOOD. Mr. Speaker, today we will ask only one thing of the President. We will ask that he agree to work with us to balance the budget in 7 years using the numbers of a non-partisan Congressional Budget Office. It is a basic, simple request, but for some reason he seems very afraid of this commitment.

Mr. Speaker, the President said last night he thinks it will hurt America. Fortunately, some of us know better than that. The hundreds of people calling my office certainly know better than that. They know that the best thing we can do for this country is to make an unmistakable commitment to balance this budget.

That is what we will do. No matter what the President says, no matter how long it takes, we are going to balance this budget in 7 years, and we will do it by controlling spending, saving Medicare, and giving the hard-working people of America back some of the money that was stolen from them by the 103d Congress. The people of the 10th District have my word on this.

WHY CAN WE NOT FIND COMMON GROUND?

(Ms. HARMAN asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. HARMAN. Mr. Speaker, driving my 11-year-old to school this morning she said, "Mommy, I need to write a term paper, but the D.C. public library is closed. You worked until midnight last night. Why can't you get the Government started again so that my library will open?"

Mr. Speaker, why can't we? Why can't we stop shouting and issuing press releases and instead find common ground? Why can't we pass a continuing resolution this week and then back off and go home and talk to our constituents, not about whether to pass a 7-year balanced budget, but about what should be in it.

There are genuine disagreements among us. If we come back on November 28 and spend 5 or 6 days having an enlightened debate about the Medicare cuts, about tax cuts, about Federal entitlements and block grants. I think our constituents can help us find this common ground that just might get us to passing a 7-year balanced budget. I think we can make our children proud, not just about what we do here, but about how we treat each other.

PRESIDENT SAYS ONE THING AND MEANS ANOTHER

(Mr. CHABOT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. CHABOT. Mr. Speaker, so now the President tells us he does not want a balanced budget, and we were wrong to believe him when he said he did. Sure, he campaigned promising a balanced budget in 5 years, and sure, at one point he said he favored a balanced budget in 7 years but how insensitive, how downright mean-spirited, of us to take him at his word. What were we thinking?

Last night, we passed what the President said he wanted, a clean bill with simple language reiterating the President's commitment to a 7-year balanced budget and he's throwing it back in the face of the American people.

But it shouldn't be that surprising. After all, this is the man who said he wanted a middle-class tax cut and then gave us the largest tax increase in history. This is the man who said he wanted to end welfare as we know it and is now fighting us as we try to make welfare reform a reality.

So, you know, on second thought, maybe it's good that the President says he'll veto our balanced budget. Maybe that means he'll sign it and the Government shutdown will end.

REPUBLICANS MEETING IN SECRET

(Mr. PALLONE asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. PALLONE. Mr. Speaker, the Republicans have been meeting in secret the last few days to hammer out their differences over the budget bill, which they will probably bring to the floor tomorrow. This is the bill that cuts Medicare and effectively destroys Medicare in order to pay for tax cuts for the wealthy.

Mr. Speaker, they have not allowed the Democrats to participate in their secret negotiations, and as a result of that, a bad budget bill, as the New York Times says today, only gets worse.

If I could just read, according to the New York Times, "The House GOP budget will take about $900 worth of benefits on average from families earning less than $30,000, but only $155 from families earning above $100,000. At the same time, it will cut taxes by virtually nothing on the low-income families, but cut them by about $1,600 for high-income families."

The Republicans work in secret and they come up with a budget bill that we will get tomorrow that provides even more tax cuts for wealthy Americans while it destroys Medicare and destroys Medicaid and provides us with a much worse health care system than we have now in America.

MISTREATMENT RESULTS IN GOVERNMENT SHUTDOWN

(Mr. SCHUMER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. SCHUMER. Mr. Speaker, when I heard last night that NEWT GINGRICH said he had shut down the Government because he did not get the right treatment on an airplane, I was amazed. I could not believe it.

Mr. Speaker, today it is true. Here it is in black and white in my hometown paper, the New York Daily News, "Cry baby, Newt's tantrum. He closed down the government because Clinton made him sit at the back."

Well, the only thing one can treat such statements and actions with is humor and verse, so with all due respect to Peter, Paul, and Mary and "Leaving on a Jet Plane," here goes.

Well, my bags are packed, I am ready to go. I am sitting here on Air Force One, but sitting in the back ain't much fun. They wouldn't give me an aisle seat. The in-flight meal was mystery meat. Where is the guy in charge? I am going to complain. But the President won't talk to me. In light of Israel's tragedy, cutting Medicare is not the first thing on his mind. I am leaving on a jet plane, don't know when you will get paid again. I am leaving on a jet plane, don't know when you will be paid again.

REMOVAL OF NAME OF MEMBER AS COSPONSOR OF HOUSE RESOLUTION 264

Mr. BERMAN. Mr. Speaker, I ask unanimous consent that my name be removed as a cosponsor of House Resolution 264.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. INGLIS of South Carolina). Is there objection to the request of the gentleman from California.

There was no objection.

THE REAL ISSUE

(Mr. WELLER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. WELLER. Mr. Speaker, today's headline really says it all: "Clinton, No to GOP Offer To Keep the Government Open."

Mr. Speaker, last night 48 Democrats joined Republicans, broke ranks and resisted the strong-arm tactics of the left-wing liberal Democratic leadership by voting to keep the Government operating and open, and frankly, also voting to balance the budget.

That is really what this issue is all about. Are the American people going to have a balanced budget? Are the American people going to have a government that lives within its means?

Calls and letters that I am receiving from the folks back home are 4 to 1 in favor of balancing the budget and supporting the Republican Congress.

Kathleen Platek from Manhattan, IL: "You're doing a great job. Hang in there to balance the budget."

Ardele Ommem from Bradley, IL: "Support Republican budget. Keep the Government operating. Tell Bill Clinton to go to work."

Jacqueline Jordan from Mokena: "Balance the budget."

Mr. Speaker, the folks back home are watching. They want the Government to balance the budget. That is what this issue is all about.

ACADEMY AWARD WINNER

(Mrs. SCHROEDER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Mrs. SCHROEDER. Mr. Speaker, every year we all await the Academy Awards. It really captures our attention to see who is going to be the winner in all the different categories.

Well, there is one category our Speaker has sewn up. There is absolutely no question that NEWT GINGRICH has now absolutely sewn up the category of best performance by a child actor this year. There is only one problem. The Speaker is not a child.

Now that this country has paid dearly for his temper tantrum and paid dearly for his shutting down the Congress, shutting down the whole country because of his little peeve, could we get a performance that is more statesman-like? I think that is what this country would really like.

But congratulations, Mr. Speaker. If you wanted to be the best child actor, you got it.

AMERICA IS WATCHING

(Mr. EWING asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. EWING. Mr. Speaker, today we are here, we have lots of cutesy ideas, we have little statues and we have posters. But, ladies and gentlemen, the people see past that. The people of America know what is stopping this Government.

All your actions here today will not block out in their mind that the Democrats and the President are refusing to work with the Republicans to balance the budget. The President has a chance today to reverse that, and he can sign the new clean CR that we have sent down to the White House. America is watching. The antics on this floor today will not cover up the fact that they want a balanced budget and they want us to hang tough until we do it, for ourselves, for our seniors and for our children. Let us get to it.

COMPROMISE NEEDED IN BUDGET BATTLE

(Ms. MCKINNEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Ms. MCKINNEY. Mr. Speaker, if the Republican leadership is so committed to balancing the budget, then why do they not abandon their $245 billion tax cut? Why is it that seniors, students, and the poor have to sacrifice to balance the budget, but America's wealthiest corporations and insurance companies will get a huge windfall?

Clearly, Mr. Speaker, the GOP is using the balanced budget only as a pretext to wage their feudal class-war against seniors and working families. Why do they not go after the $500 billion in corporate welfare, as well as make Germany and Japan pay for their own defense?

Mr. Speaker, if the Republicans agree to abandon their tax cuts and eliminate just $200 billion in corporate welfare, then even I will support their budget.

PRESIDENT CLINTON URGED TO SIGN THE BILL

(Mr. GUTKNECHT asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend his remarks.)

Mr. GUTKNECHT. Mr. Speaker, the debate is now clear and the battle is joined. As Paul Harvey has said, Americans hate statistics but Americans know what they expect from us. They want us to put government on a diet and they want us to balance their budget. We are a Nation that gets up early, rolls up our sleeves and gets the job done. To be told that we cannot balance this budget within 7 years is an insult to the intelligence of the American people. You promised to balance the budget in 5 years. Mr. President, if you meant what you said, then sign this bill.

THE HORRIBLE WELFARE BILL

(Ms. WOOLSEY asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute and to revise and extend her remarks.)

Ms. WOOLSEY. Mr. Speaker, with most of the Republican leadership running for the Presidency right now, and running on ego and on meanness, it makes sense that this new majority is sending President Clinton a welfare bill that pushes over 1 million more children into poverty and does nothing, absolutely nothing, to help recipients prepare for jobs that pay a decent wage.

On the other hand, the Democrats have a welfare reform bill that invests in education, in job training, in child care and child support.

Mr. Speaker, when 100 percent of the House Democrats voted for this legislation, we demonstrated that conservatives, moderates, and liberals can agree on reform that guarantees a safety net for children and gets their parents to work.

I ask, why does the crybaby Speaker not cry about real babies? Real babies who are becoming even poorer as a result of this mean-spirited, whining leadership. We must veto this horrible welfare bill.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE TRUTH

(Mr. BALLENGER asked and was given permission to address the House for 1 minute.)

Mr. BALLENGER. Mr. Speaker, President Bill Clinton has willfully misled the American public on his plans for the future of America.

During his campaign for President, he said he would support a balanced budget in 5 years. Two years later, he refuses to even consider balancing the budget in seven years.

He said he would end welfare as we know it. Now he says he will veto a bill that ends welfare as we know it. He said he supported tax relief for the American family. But his first budget raised taxes on American families.

Mr. Speaker, President Clinton is to truth what Abraham Lincoln was to lying.

The American people should not believe a word he says, because many
