

This partnership depends on trust, cooperation, and mutual respect. Citizen efforts enhance, but do not replace, law enforcement efforts. I am pleased to say that Turn Around America has yielded impressive results. In neighborhoods where demonstrations have taken place, crack houses have closed. Children play in parks that were once littered with drug paraphernalia. The number of drug-related arrests have risen, several of which were directly linked to citizen involvement. Even veteran police officers have been inspired by Herman's anti-drug crusade.

Mr. Wrice's relentless efforts to fight crime and violence have received widespread attention. Villanova University honored him with an honorary doctorate degree for his activism. His programs have been described in many publications, including the Wall Street Journal, the New York Times, Readers Digest, Policy Review, and Philadelphia Magazine. Mr. Wrice and his anti-crime program were even featured on 60 Minutes. This exposure led to requests for training from over 200 cities and towns across the country. In 1994, Herman was one of six activists to receive an America's Award for Courage during special ceremonies at the Kennedy Center. The following year, he was named a Join Together Fellow by the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation. On a local level, Herman has been a two-time recipient of the Mayor's Outstanding Citizen Award, and a three time honoree as the Junior Chamber's Outstanding Young Man of the Year. Finally, he has received the Freedom Foundation's Citizenship Award, the NAACP Unsung Hero's Award, and was named the Citizen Crime Commission's Crime Fighter of the Year.

Mr. President, Herman C. Wrice is a man with a purpose. He has dedicated his life to community service, and he has made a difference. He has worked to make the streets safe for neighborhood children, and he has raised 17 of his own—11 of whom were adopted. I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring Mr. Wrice and in extending the Senate's best wishes to his family. ●

CONGRATULATING THE CHICAGO BULLS ON WINNING THE 1998 NBA CHAMPIONSHIP

Mr. LUGAR. On behalf of the leader, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to the immediate consideration of Senate Resolution 249 introduced earlier today by Senators MOSELEY-BRAUN and DURBIN.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. The clerk will report.

The legislative clerk read as follows:

The resolution (S.Res. 249) to congratulate the Chicago Bulls on winning the 1998 National Basketball Association Championship.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Is there objection to the immediate consideration of the resolution?

There being no objection, the Senate proceeded to consider the resolution.

MS. MOSELEY-BRAUN. Mr. President, I would like to take a few minutes today to join the citizens of the city of Chicago and the entire state of Illinois, as well as Bulls fans around the world, in congratulating the Chicago Bulls for winning a sixth National Basketball Association championship. The Bulls defeated the Utah Jazz 87-86 in game six of the finals this past Sunday in Salt Lake City.

One of the true joys of my life over the last several years has been to watch Michael Jordan, Scottie Pippen, Phil Jackson and the rest of the Bulls continually define excellence in team basketball. Considered by some to have been underdogs in this year's series against the Utah Jazz, the Bulls persevered and wrote yet another fantastic chapter in one of the greatest stories in professional sports.

Without a doubt, the Bulls' repeat-peat would not have been possible without the star performance of Michael Jordan. His play throughout the season defined what it means to be a champion, and his 45 points and last-second winning shot on Sunday night ensured that his team remained champions. Once again, Michael Jordan has defined excellence. Once again, he has defined competitiveness and leadership. Once again, he and all of the Bulls have shown us that hard work, teamwork, talent and desire will produce victory.

Complementing Michael Jordan this year, as he has so skillfully done for each of the Bulls' championships, was forward Scottie Pippen. Despite being injured for much of the first half of the season and suffering with a severely strained back in game six, Scottie Pippen demonstrated through his outstanding offensive and defensive play that he too has the heart of a champion.

Mr. President, I would also like to recognize the flamboyant and talented play of Dennis Rodman. Like Michael Jordan and Scottie Pippen, Dennis Rodman has been a key reason for the Bulls' success. His harshest critics cannot take away his five NBA championships, two with the Detroit Pistons and three with the Bulls, or his seven consecutive NBA rebounding titles.

I would also like to highlight the accomplishments of Toni Kukoc, whose play often provided the boost to take the Bulls to victory. He was always there with a big shot when one was most needed. Ron Harper is another player who made many invaluable contributions during the Bulls' championship run. His defensive play throughout the playoffs shut down many of the league's best point guards.

Steve Kerr, Luc Longley, Randy Brown, Scott Burrell, Bill Wennington, Jud Buechler and Dickey Simpkins all played important roles in the Bulls' championship drive. Their contributions further demonstrated Phil Jackson's masterful coaching skills. His intelligent, deliberative and team-oriented approach to the game allowed his players to transcend the individual and operate as a unit.

Mr. President, I would also like to congratulate Jerry Reinsdorf and Jerry Krause for once again fielding an NBA championship team. This is an outstanding victory in which they can take great pride.

In congratulating the Bulls for winning a sixth NBA title in eight years, I also want to compliment the Utah Jazz for their spirited play and sportsmanship. This Jazz team gave the Bulls their toughest challenge in any of their six championships. Karl Malone and John Stockton are both certainly Hall of Fame players.

Mr. President, the state of Illinois can also take special pride in the accomplishments of the Utah Jazz because the coach of the Jazz, Jerry Sloan, is a product of our state. The McLeansboro native not only hails from Illinois, but also had a storied career with the Bulls. I would like to thank Jerry Sloan and his team for a thrilling finals series.

I have one last thought, Mr. President, and in expressing it, I believe that I speak for Bulls fans everywhere: Let there be seven!

Mr. DURBIN. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to a spectacular team that has propelled itself into the upper echelon of basketball history, the Chicago Bulls. Add a new name to the history books of the National Basketball Association; the Boston Celtics of the 1960s, the Los Angeles Lakers of the 1980s, and undeniably, the Chicago Bulls of the 1990s.

On Sunday, as I watched Game Six with basketball fans and Bulls followers around the world, I was privileged to witness another incredible performance by Michael Jordan and the entire Bulls team. For the sixth time in eight years, in a victory for the ages, the Chicago Bulls are the champions of the National Basketball Association. It is with great honor, pleasure, and pride that I salute and congratulate the entire Chicago Bulls organization.

As a columnist for the Chicago Sun-Times noted, "We live in the right city at the right time." It is simple yet so true. No other team in any sport has been able to show the dominance and consistency that the Bulls have shown. The people of Chicago and Illinois have a special source of pride in the Chicago Bulls and especially in Michael Jordan. This wonderful championship and the five spectacular ones before it are all keepsakes in the hearts and minds of Chicagoans. I know personally that days, weeks, and years from now I will be recounting where I was when the Bulls achieved the "Six-Pack," and I will be doing it with great pride. My grandson Alex, who recently turned two years old, is not quite old enough to realize what the Bulls have accomplished. But make no mistake about it, in the years to come I know he will have a proud grandfather recounting the almost mythical tales of Michael Jordan and telling of the amazing dynasty that they created.

Michael Jordan. What more can possibly be said about him? There are simply no longer any more adjectives to describe his spectacular feats and clutch performances. Super-human? Possibly. The best to ever plan the game of basketball? Positively. In the pivotal Game Six, in a most unfriendly arena, Michael Jordan took his team and the people of "the city of big shoulders," put them all directly on his shoulders and carried them all to the NBA's promised land, the world championship. Jordan, the ambassador of the game of basketball to the world, accomplished what no other player has been able to do. With his unprecedented tenth scoring title and sixth Finals Most Valuable Player award, Jordan has shown the impact he has on the game. But I'm sure that all of the personal accolades are secondary when it comes to the team and to being champions. The true champion puts his team and their success above all and Jordan has done that time and time again.

None of us will forget the courageous performance given by an injured Scottie Pippen. With an injury that would have had anyone else bedridden, he played as well as he possibly could. But more importantly, he provided the emotional lift that the team needed. Again, another example of how being there for your team and your fellow players is ingrained in the hearts of these players, in the hearts of champions.

And of course, the man who keeps it all together and running like a well tuned machine, Phil Jackson. With a combination of years of basketball experience as a player and as a coach, his special relationship with Jordan, Pippen, and the entire team, and a touch of his Zen philosophy, Jackson has been able to lead this team to the apex of the National Basketball Association despite all of the distractions and injuries.

Surely we cannot overlook the contributions of the rest of the team—Dennis Rodman, Ron Harper, Luc Longley, Toni Kukoc, the "supporting cast" as they are called. But they are more than that. They are each a critical piece of a puzzle that when fully assembled presents us with an impressive and spectacular sight: Six golden, shining, championship trophies. Each clutch three point basket by Steve Kerr and Judd Buechler, each suffocating defensive stop by Scott Burrell and Randy Brown, each rebound from Bill Wennington and Dickey Simpkins are essential pieces of the big picture.

We should also acknowledge the impressive job that owner Jerry Reinsdorf has done with this organization from the time he took over as owner, and the sportsmanship and leadership that the Bulls organization has shown through the years.

I could go on and on, but I would like to switch tracks and commend the Utah Jazz for a wonderful and exciting series. The Jazz organization and the fans of Salt Lake City were worthy opponents in this battle and did not go quietly into the night. They made the Bulls give every ounce of heart and determination to win this sixth championship. You could not have asked for more from the Utah Jazz. The Utah fans were the extra player on the bench ready to give their team a needed push. I'm sure that their biggest fan, my colleague Senator ORRIN HATCH, provided the loudest cheers of all. Unfortunately, there can only be one champion. But in my eyes, and the eyes of all basketball fans, Karl Malone, John Stockton, and the entire team earned our respect and admiration. They too are champions and I commend them and wish them the best of luck in returning to the NBA Finals.

As the city of Chicago celebrates another taste of excellence and prepares for another mid-June party in Grant Park, we can only hope that this is not the last we see from this team. But if it was our last opportunity to be graced with the performance of Michael Jordan, Scottie Pippen, and Phil Jackson, the core and heart of this team, then we could not have asked for anything more. They continually gave this city and fans everywhere joy, pride, a glimpse at what it is like to be the best at what you do and to accomplish the ultimate goal. The Chicago Bulls have given millions of fans the chance to live vicariously through them. When the Bulls are champions, the entire city of Chicago and all Bulls fans are also champions. When Jordan steals the ball and makes the game winning shot with five seconds to go, we all make that shot. The Bulls give us hope and pride and the chance to be champions. I salute them for bringing so much to the city of Chicago, and to basketball fans everywhere.

The breath-taking performances that Michael Jordan has graced us with and the six hard-fought championships that the entire team has brought to the city are truly "unbelieve-a-bull." Without question, being successful in all six of their championship endeavors, they were "unstop-a-bull." And their place in history and in the hearts of everyone in Chicago and the world is absolutely "undeni-a-bull." I salute the Chicago Bulls on a wonderful season, and a heart-stopping championship. If this was Michael Jordan's last game then it could not have been scripted any better. It was a fitting, almost storybook ending in which the man who got us there also brought us back victorious. As coach Phil Jackson put it, "it has been a wonderful ride." Indeed it has been. Congratulations to the city of Chicago and the World Champion Chicago Bulls.

Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, I must comment, in my own congratulations to the Chicago Bulls, with the observation that our Indiana Pacers extended the Bulls to seven games, as the Chair will remember. We are delighted that such a great season occurred in the NBA, and a very worthy team, including, obviously, the Utah Jazz, the ultimate survivors. We congratulate the Bulls on their sixth triumph in 8 years.

I ask unanimous consent the resolution and preamble be agreed to en bloc, the motion to reconsider be laid on the table, and any statements relating to the resolution appear in the RECORD in the appropriate place, as if read.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

The resolution (S. Res. 249) was agreed to.

The preamble was agreed to.

The resolution, with its preamble, is as follows:

S. RES. 249

Whereas the Chicago Bulls, despite injuries to Scottie Pippen and Luc Longley, went 62-20 and tied for the best regular season record in the National Basketball Association;

Whereas the Bulls battled through the playoffs, sweeping the New Jersey Nets and defeating the Charlotte Hornets in 5 games, before beating the Indiana Pacers in 7 games to return to the NBA Finals for the third straight year;

Whereas the Bulls displayed stifling defense throughout the playoffs before beating the Utah Jazz to repeat the 3-peat and win their third consecutive NBA championship, their sixth in the last 8 years;

Whereas head coach Phil Jackson and the entire coaching staff skillfully led the Bulls through an injury riddled 62-win season and a 15-6 playoff run;

Whereas Michael Jordan won his fifth most valuable player award, and he, along with Scottie Pippen, were again named to the NBA's "All-Defensive First Team";

Whereas Michael Jordan won his record tenth scoring title and was named the NBA Finals most valuable player for the sixth time in 6 appearances in the finals;

Whereas Scottie Pippen again exhibited his outstanding offensive and defensive versatility, proving himself to be one of the best all-around players in the NBA;

Whereas the quickness, tireless defensive effort, and athleticism of the colorful Dennis Rodman, who won his seventh straight rebounding title, keyed a strong Bulls front line;

Whereas Toni Kukoc displayed his awesome variety of offensive skills in both assisting on, and hitting, several big shots when the Bulls needed them most;

Whereas veteran guard Ron Harper, in shutting down many of the league's top point guards throughout the playoffs, demonstrated the defensive skills that have made him a cornerstone of the league's best defense;

Whereas center Luc Longley frustrated many of the all-star caliber centers that he faced while at times providing a much needed scoring lift;

Whereas Steve Kerr buried several 3-pointers when the Bulls needed them most;

Whereas the outstanding play of Jud Buechler, Scott Burrell, and Bill Wennington and the tenacious defense of Randy Brown, each of whom came off the bench to provide valuable contributions, were an important part of each Bulls victory; and

Whereas the contributions of Dickey Simpkins and rookies Rusty LaRue and Keith Booth, both on the court and in practice, again demonstrated the total devotion of Bulls personnel to the team concept that has made the Bulls one of the great sports dynasties of modern times: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That the Senate congratulates the Chicago Bulls on winning the 1998 National Basketball Association championship.

ORDERS FOR JUNE 17, 1998

Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, on behalf of the leader, I now ask unanimous consent that when the Senate completes its business today, it stand in adjournment until 9:30 a.m. on Wednesday, June 17. I further ask that on Wednesday, immediately following the prayer, the routine requests through the morning hour be granted and the Senate then begin a period of morning business until 10:30 a.m., with Senators permitted to speak for up to 5 minutes each, with the following exceptions: Senator ASHCROFT, 20 minutes; Senator TORRICELLI, 15 minutes; Senator AKAKA, 10 minutes.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. LUGAR. I further ask unanimous consent that, following morning business, the Senate resume consideration of S. 1415, the tobacco bill.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

PROGRAM

Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, for the information of all Senators, the Senate will reconvene tomorrow at 9:30 a.m. and begin a period of morning business until 10:30 a.m. Following morning business, the Senate will resume consideration of the tobacco bill, with a Ford amendment pending regarding the tobacco farmers. Following disposition of the Ford amendment, it is hoped that Members will come to the floor to offer and debate remaining amendments to the tobacco bill. Therefore, rollcall votes are expected throughout Wednesday's session.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

Mr. FORD. Will the Senator yield for a question so we might understand tomorrow?

Mr. LUGAR. Yes, I am pleased to.

Mr. FORD. I ask the Senator this. We have morning business from 9:30 to 10:30. I didn't hear the Senator. Are we out at 10:30 in recess?

Mr. LUGAR. The unanimous consent agreement was, following morning business, the Senate will resume consideration of the tobacco bill with the Ford amendment pending regarding tobacco farmers.

Mr. FORD. I say to my friend that we can do it a little bit later. I thought when we first talked, there would be a hiatus until whatever time the conference was over. Apparently, now the conference will not occur.

Mr. LUGAR. My understanding is that the conference of the Republicans will occur at 10:30, and the leader will make a decision in the morning with regard to any further motions in relation to that time.

Mr. FORD. I thought at the time you and I could have an agreement, as the two managers here, to make a decision on when we would have that vote, or some time prior that we have a chance to say a few words.

Mr. LUGAR. I will be guided by the leaders.

Mr. FORD. Just to be sure that the two leaders understand what we want then.

Mr. LUGAR. In any event, I am hopeful of attending the meeting at 10:30. I will miss the Senator during that period.

Mr. FORD. I wish I could be a little fly on the wall and listen to it, but I won't be able to do that.

Mr. LUGAR. I understand. I thank the Senator.

ADJOURNMENT UNTIL 9:30 A.M. TOMORROW

Mr. LUGAR. Mr. President, if there is no further business to come before the Senate, I now ask that the Senate stand in adjournment under the previous order.

There being no objection, the Senate, at 6:31 p.m. adjourned until Wednesday, June 17, 1998, at 9:30 a.m.
