

and kind man whose conscientious matter led him to once fill a 43 page opinion with 403 footnotes.

Judge Robinson was bestowed with many honors during his life for his work in civil rights and commitment to community. In his home State of Virginia, the Old Dominion Bar Association gave him its President's Award in 1988. The National Bar Association honored him with its Wiley A. Branton Award in 1993. In 1995, Mr. Robinson was honored in the Virginia Power/North Carolina Power "Strong Men and Women, Excellence in Leadership" educational series. He also received an honorary doctorate of laws in 1986 from New York Law School, for his efforts "to achieve true equality under the law for all Americans" and addressing "the conscience of the nation."

In his personal life, Judge Robinson was an accomplished woodworker and an amateur architect who designed his own split-level home in Richmond. He loved fishing so much that he built his own fishing boat in his basement in 1953 and utilized it for 25 years.

Judge Robinson is survived by his wife, Marian Wilkerson Robinson; a son, Spottswood W. Robinson IV of Richmond; a daughter, Nina Govan of Greenbelt, MD; and a sister, Mrs. Isadore Burke of Freeport, Bahamas.

Judge Spottswood W. Robinson, III, is gone, but his legacy shall remain. His hard work and dedication paved the way for those of us who came after him. As an African-American male, an attorney, and an elected member of this esteemed body, it is incumbent upon me to honor Judge Robinson for allowing me to tread mightily in his footsteps.

DIANE MEDINA'S "COMMUNITY EXCELLENCE AWARD"

HON. SOLOMON P. ORTIZ

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, October 14, 1998

Mr. ORTIZ. Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring a leading Hispanic in the entertainment industry, Diane Medina, the Director of Diversity Programs for the Walt Disney Company. Next month, Diane will be honored by the Latino Entertainment Media Institute's Community Excellence Award.

The Latino Entertainment Media Institute is a non-profit organization which follows and speaks to the issue of Hispanics in the entertainment industry. Their theme this year is: "Investing in our Image."

Diane Medina is uniquely qualified for this award. Her entire life she has worked to bring Hispanics into the entertainment industry across a wide swath of opportunities that currently exist. She was born and raised in Southern California, where she has worked in the industry for over 25 years. She worked at ABC in Human Resources and diversity, moving to the Walt Disney Company after they bought ABC.

Walt Disney knew a good thing when they saw it. Diane has immersed herself in the non-profits associated with the industry which advocate a larger inclusion of Hispanics in Hollywood. She sits on boards for the following non-profits dealing with issues pertaining to Hispanics in the entertainment industry: the Imagen Foundation, Nosotros, Latino Entertainment Media Institute, National Hispanic Foundation for the Arts, Hispanic Academy of Media Arts and Sciences, the National Council of La Raza (host of the Alma Awards), and many others.

Just last month during Hispanic Heritage Month events, Diane and I discussed the direction of one of the non profits with whom we both have worked, and, as always, I was impressed with her passion and her commitment to the prospect of including Hispanics in the entertainment industry at all levels, from on-camera talent, to behind-the-camera talent, to the business suites of the studios.

Diane and I share a common philosophy about how to accomplish our goal of getting more Hispanics in the entertainment industry. We both believe that if you appeal to the better angels of those you are trying to convince, you get more done. My grandfather used to tell me that you get more flies with honey than with vinegar.

Diane knows, from her position inside the industry, that if the Hispanic presence is to change, so, too, must the voices doing the presentation. We are both persuaded that the very best way to increase that presence is to approach both the industry and the community with reasoned voices.

I ask my colleagues to join me in commending Diane for her role in increasing the number of Hispanics throughout the industry, and for being a role model for those who aspire to be part of the entertainment industry.

TRIBUTE TO THE HONORABLE HENRY B. GONZALEZ

SPEECH OF

HON. SILVESTRE REYES

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Friday, October 9, 1998

Mr. REYES. Mr. Speaker, I rise in tribute to Congressman HENRY B. GONZALEZ who will be retiring from the House of Representatives at the end of this session. As the Dean of the Texas delegation, he has been a remarkable representative for his district, for Texas, and for the entire Nation.

Throughout his career Congressman GONZALEZ has never failed to stand up for the rights of others. For over 40 years, beginning in the Texas legislature and throughout his career in the United States House of Representatives he has stood up for minorities. Moreover, he has continually spoken out for improved educational, economic and housing opportunities for the Nation. His legendary courage to stand by his principles, and singularly take on controversial positions in the national interest are an inspiration to all Americans.

Moreover, we should all be grateful for his skilled leadership as Chairman of the House Banking Committee. His oversight and investigative skills steered our Nation through one of the most serious financial periods of our Nation. Through his insightful and decisive actions he brought about meaningful solutions to the devastating multibillion dollar savings and loan crisis. Additionally, he averted a similar crisis in the banking industry with important legislative reforms with an overhaul of our system of deposit insurance.

Furthermore, as the first Mexican-American Congressional Representative from Texas, he has been an inspiration for Hispanics and all Americans. He stands as a model of a person having the courage to sometimes stand alone and blaze a new trail in the name of public service. He is an example of the American ideal that one person can truly make a difference. His powerful voice spoke out for the hopes and dreams of millions of Americans, and his level of dedication and commitment is a standard for all Members of Congress.

I am proud to say that I have known Congressman GONZALEZ for many years. I am even more proud to have had the opportunity to serve with him as a Member of the 105th Congress. Congressman GONZALEZ is a person whose strength of character and tenacity I admire and respect.

As he leaves this legislative body, his independent spirit will forever remain in this chamber. We will always remember Congressman HENRY B. GONZALEZ as a fierce advocate for the highest American ideals. His 37 years of service are filled with distinction and accomplishments, and his constituents can be proud of sending a legendary advocate for his district and for all Americans.

Congressman HENRY B. GONZALEZ, I wish you well in your future pursuits, and know that you leave a powerful legacy of tirelessly working for the betterment of America.

AUTHORIZING THE COMMITTEE ON THE JUDICIARY TO INVESTIGATE WHETHER SUFFICIENT GROUNDS EXIST FOR THE IMPEACHMENT OF WILLIAM JEFFERSON CLINTON, PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

SPEECH OF

HON. VITO FOSSELLA

OF NEW YORK

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Thursday, October 8, 1998

Mr. FOSSELLA. Mr. Speaker, it is with a heavy heart that I rise today to support this resolution. I say this not as a Republican, not as a New Yorker, but as a person who loves this great country and all it represents.

Earlier today, the gentleman from New York, Mr. NADLER, stated in essence: "This matter will be the most divisive issue this nation has faced since Vietnam." While I do not question the gentleman from New York's belief that he believes this to be true, I do take exception to the comparison and respectfully disagree. Here is why during the Vietnam war, as has been the case with every war or military conflict since our nation's birth, men and women were sent overseas with a willingness to die for freedom, liberty and to defend the rule of law. In the case before us, the President of the United States has been charged with violating the rule of law that so many Americans have died for and are still willing to die for at a moments notice all over the globe. The same rule of law that we must ensure applies equally to every single American, including the President of the United States.

This matter goes to the very heart and soul of what America is all about. This matter will determine whether we defend the Constitution, or destroy it. I hope and pray that each distinguished Member of this body places America first and that each Member sees through the clouds of rhetoric to uphold the rule of law.

It is the rule of law that unifies this country. It is the rule of law that allows each American the opportunity to enjoy and to pursue what our founding fathers and every generation of Americans since have always hoped for—that each American be entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. If we, indeed, cherish the notions of personal freedom and individual liberty granted to every single American, then we will seek to vindicate the rule of law and proceed with this matter with all deliberate speed and an unbreakable bond with each other towards fairness, equity and justice for each party involved, including the President of the United States.

Mr. Speaker, too many Americans have died to defend these principles we hold so sacred. Too many generations of Americans have given so much to wish reluctantly that this matter just disappear. Just as important, Mr. Speaker, with the Almighty blessing, generations of Americans yet unborn will look back to this day and claim this to be one of America's finest hours, not as a sideshow that some are trying to depict this as.

Each Member of this body still must maintain an obligation and responsibility to be bound to our oath of office, the same oath of office voluntarily taken by the President of the United States. Accordingly, Mr. Speaker, I support this resolution.

DIGITAL MILLENNIUM COPYRIGHT ACT

SPEECH OF

HON. RICK BOUCHER

OF VIRGINIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Monday, October 12, 1998

Mr. BOUCHER. Mr. Speaker, I am pleased to rise in support of the conference report on H.R. 2281.

Through this legislation, we extend new protections to copyright owners to help them guard against the theft of their works in the digital era. At the same time, we preserve the critical balance in the copyright law between the rights of copyright owners and users by also including strong fair use and other provisions for the benefits of libraries, universities, and information consumers generally.

I am pleased to advise my colleagues that many of the compromises achieved in this legislation reflect the work of the Commerce Committee. I want to underscore my appreciation for the leadership of Chairman BLILEY and Ranking Member DINGELL in successfully crafting balanced legislation both in the Committee and as conferees.

I want to highlight briefly several provisions addressing fair use and the effect of this legislation on consumer electronics devices, computers and other technologies. These provisions are fundamental to the balance that the conferees have achieved in this measure.

First, the conferees included a provision which ensures that the legislation's prohibition against circumvention of copy protection technologies in digital works does not thwart the exercise of fair use and other rights by all users. This safeguard requires that the Librarian of Congress, in consultation with the Register of Copyrights and the National Telecommunications and Information Administration of the Commerce Department, conduct proceedings periodically to determine if these rights are being adversely affected by copy protection technologies in the digital age. If the Librarian of Congress determines that non-infringing uses of certain classes of copyright works are, or are likely to be, adversely affected, then the measure's prohibition against circumvention of copy protection technologies shall not apply to users with respect to those works.

Second, with respect to consumer electronics devices and other equipment, the conferees included a "no mandate" provision which should reassure manufacturers of future digital telecommunications, consumer electronics and computing products that they have the design freedom to choose parts and components in designing and building new equipment. Read together with other provisions of the measure and other parts of the relevant legislative history, the "no mandate" provision confirms that Congress does not intend to require equipment manufacturers to design new digital telecommunications equipment, consumer electronics and computing products to respond to any particular copy protection technology.

Third, the conferees also clarified that manufacturers, retailers and professional services can make "playability" adjustments to their equipment without fear of liability. Recognizing that, whether introduced unilaterally or after a multi-industry development process, a copy protection technology might cause playability problems, the conferees explicitly stated that makers or servicers of consumer electronics, telecommunications or computing products can mitigate these problems without being deemed to have violated the measure's prohibition against circumvention of a copy protection technology. Equipment manufacturers should thus be able to make product adjustments without fear of liability, and retailers and professional servicers should not feel burdened with the threat of litigation in repairing videocassette recorders and other popular products for their customers.

Taken together, these provisions demonstrate that the legislation is not intended to diminish core fair use and other rights that have always been recognized in our copyright law. These provisions confirm that the measure does not limit the development and use of consumer electronics, telecommunications, and computer products used by libraries, universities, schools and consumers everyday for perfectly legitimate purposes.

In short, with these and the other changes made to preserve the rights of information consumers, the conferees have produced a bill worthy of our support. I commend their efforts in achieving this careful compromise.

VETERANS' BENEFITS ENHANCEMENT ACT OF 1998

SPEECH OF

HON. BOB STUMP

OF ARIZONA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Saturday, October 10, 1998

Mr. STUMP. Mr. Speaker, we have unfortunately come to the point of impasse with the other body over efforts to wrap up veterans' legislation in the 105th Congress.

The House and Senate Veterans' Affairs Committee have reached agreement on a wide-ranging package of veterans' program enhancements in our usual bipartisan fashion.

The House is ready to act on that agreement.

However, there seems to be difficulty in the other body because certain Members may disagree with the compromises agreed to by the two veterans' committees.

We should not have come to this point, Mr. Speaker.

The House has worked diligently this year on veterans' legislation.

We have passed bills in a timely fashion: two bills in the month of March, two bills in May, and two in early August.

In contrast, the other body did not bring a veterans' bill to the floor until the last day of September.

They are still trying to bring up various bills under unanimous consent but holds are being placed on some of them for one reason or another.

This puts the House in the difficult position of facing the need to try one last time in this session to move a bill which includes all the agreements reached between the two Veterans' Affairs Committees.

Passage of House amendments to the Senate amendment to H.R. 4110 will provide the Senate the opportunity to either send this entire package to the President for his signature or kill the bill, including the cost-of-living adjustment for veterans service-connected disability payments. I want to make it very clear to House Members and Members in the other body that I will not ask the House to take any further action on this legislation this year.

The House has done its job, more than once.

The other chamber should clear this bill for the President to sign.

We should be forthright and sincere about our efforts on behalf of veterans rather than engaging in brinkmanship over the provisions on one particular piece of legislation.

I hope we can avoid this situation in the future, Mr. Speaker.

The House Committee would like to work with the other body next year to reach agreement on individual bills during the course of the session.

Waiting until the very last minute to act on bills risks our entire work product on behalf of veterans.

I believe this bill is an excellent package of program enhancements for veterans.

It clearly demonstrates action by Congress to fulfill our Nation's commitment to those who have sacrificed in defense of freedom.

This bill includes:

Significant progress toward improving health care to Persian Gulf war veterans;

An independent scientific evaluation by the National Academy of Science of the potential health effects of risk factors veterans may have been exposed to in the Gulf war;

An increase in pensions for those incredible heroes who earned the Congressional Medal of Honor;

A new innovative loan guarantee program for multifamily transitional housing for homeless veterans;

Burial benefits and national cemetery eligibility for World War II merchant mariners;

Increasing the Federal share for establishing State veterans' cemeteries to one-hundred percent;

Extending VA home loan eligibility for guard and reservists through the year 2003;
