

and that such bill be respectfully returned to the Senate with a message communicating this resolution.

The SPEAKER pro tempore (Mr. GUTKNECHT). In the opinion of the Chair, the resolution constitutes a question of the privileges of the House.

The gentleman from Illinois (Mr. CRANE) is recognized for 30 minutes.

Mr. CRANE. Mr. Speaker, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Speaker, this resolution is necessary to return to the Senate the bill S. 361, because it contravenes the constitutional requirement that revenue measures shall originate in the House of Representatives. S. 361 would create a new basis for applying import restrictions and therefore violates this constitutional requirement.

S. 361 proposes amending the Rhinoceros and Tiger Conservation Act of 1994 to prohibit the sale, import and export of products intended for human consumption or application that contain, or are labeled as containing, any substance derived from rhinoceroses or tigers. The legislation passed by the other body would have the effect of creating a new basis and mechanism for applying import restrictions. The provision would have a direct effect on tariff revenues. The proposed change in our import laws is a "revenue affecting" infringement on the prerogatives of the House which constitutes a revenue measure in the constitutional sense. Therefore, I am asking that the House insist on its constitutional prerogatives.

There are numerous precedents for the action I am requesting. For example, on April 16, 1996, the House returned to the Senate S. 1463, amending the definition of industry under the Safeguard Law with respect to investigations involving imports of perishable agricultural products. On February 25, 1992, the House returned to the Senate S. 884, requiring the President to impose sanctions, including import restrictions, against countries that fail to eliminate large-scale driftnet fishing.

I want to emphasize that this action does not constitute a rejection of the Senate bill on its merits. In fact, the House passed H.R. 2807 on April 28, 1998, which contains an import ban on the same products covered by the Senate bill. S. 361, however, was passed by the other body as a freestanding bill in contravention to the constitutional requirement that revenue measures originate in the House of Representatives. Since the passage of S. 361, the Senate amended the House-passed bill, H.R. 2807, on October 13, 1998, and on the following day the House agreed to the Senate amendments. By amending a House-passed bill which already contained a revenue provision, the Senate acted on this matter in compliance with the Constitution and the House has responded by concurring in the Senate language.

Accordingly, the proposed action today is purely procedural in nature and is necessary to preserve the prerogatives of the House to originate all revenue matters. It makes clear to the Senate that the appropriate procedure for dealing with revenue measures is for the House to act first on a revenue bill and for the Senate to accept it or amend it as it sees fit.

Mr. Speaker, I have no requests for time, I yield back the balance of my time, and I move the previous question on the resolution.

The previous question was ordered.

The resolution was agreed to.

A motion to reconsider was laid on the table.
