

problems with the quality of some foreign products make it all the more vital that we provide our consumers with as much information as possible so that they may make informed decisions about the food they purchase for themselves and their families.

Mr. President, this measure is supported by the Administration and prominent agriculture groups like the National Farmers Union, the American Farm Bureau, and the National Cattlemen's Association to name a few. Most importantly, this measure is supported by American consumers. In January, a survey conducted by Wirthlin Worldwide showed an overwhelming percentage of Americans, 78%, want to know more about the origin of the meat they purchase.

I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting this important measure. I urge you to give your constituents the right to know more about the origin of the food they buy and to allow them the opportunity to make choices that support their nation's agriculture industry.●

NATIONAL TRIO DAY

● Ms. COLLINS. Mr. President, I rise to bring my colleagues' attention to the celebration of National TRIO Day on February 27th. The 99th Congress designated the last Saturday in February as the day to celebrate these very important and successful federal programs designed to raise the educational aspirations of students by providing services that help them overcome social, cultural, and other barriers to success in higher education.

Currently, two thousand colleges, universities, and community agencies sponsor TRIO programs. More than 780,000 lower-income middle school, high school, and adult students benefit from the services of such TRIO programs as Talent Search, Upward Bound, and Student Support Services. Not only do students personally benefit from their participation in higher education, but also our nation benefits from a better-educated population motivated to serve their communities and their country.

My home state of Maine has one of the country's lowest rates of participation in postsecondary education. The fifteen TRIO programs operating in Maine are working successfully to increase this number. Each year, these programs serve 6,000 students, building their aspirations for higher education and providing them the counseling, confidence, and academic support they need to pursue higher education.

Father James Nadeau, a native of my hometown in Aroostook County, is a graduate of the Bowdoin College Upward Bound program. His story tells why the TRIO programs are so important. His parents did not have the opportunity to pursue an education beyond the eighth grade. Father Jim's participation in Upward Bound changed his life and opened up a world of opportunity to him.

Beginning in 1977, Father Jim spent three summers enrolled in Upward Bound and then attended Dartmouth College and studied in France and Scotland. Subsequently, he studied for five years at the Gregorian University in Rome and received two graduate degrees in theology. His ministry has spanned from Mother Teresa in Calcutta to school children in Portland, Maine and continues to affect lives all over the world. He is an excellent role model for the youth of Maine and remains a terrific example of the success of the TRIO programs. There are many similar stories of TRIO graduates in all professions and walks of life. These are stories of successful, educated individuals who were introduced by a TRIO program to the endless possibilities that become attainable through education.

I encourage all of my colleagues to visit TRIO programs in their states as I have done in Maine. You will see for yourselves why these programs are vital to our efforts to promote equal educational opportunity for all our citizens.●

MONTANA IS PROUD OF THE BOZEMAN HIGH SCHOOL BAND

● Mr. BAUCUS. Mr. President, I come to the floor today to recognize an outstanding group of Montana students. Recently, the Bozeman High School Marching Band and Color Guard earned the opportunity to perform in the Rose Bowl Parade in Pasadena, CA. By the sounds of the crowd of onlookers, it is safe to say that they stole the show. It was a beautiful day for a parade, and the Bozeman High School Marching Band and Color Guard took advantage of the opportunity to make a name for themselves. Over the past few years, Montana students have truly become competitive in academics, athletics, and the arts. The Bozeman High School band is just one of the many examples where Montana students are gaining national recognition. There are few appearances by Montana High Schools at events of this caliber, but rest assured, there are many more to come.

Under the direction of Russ and Lorelee Newbury, these students worked extremely hard to prepare for this prestigious event. They represented their school, city, county, and state with great enthusiasm and talent. I know that I speak for the people of Bozeman and the State of Montana when I say that I am very proud of these students. I would like to take this opportunity to congratulate every one of these students on a job well done.

Mr. President, I ask that articles from the Bozeman Daily Chronicle of December 29, 1998, and January 2, 1999, be printed in the RECORD.

The articles follow:

CALIFORNIA, HERE THEY COME (By Gail Schontzler)

Three hundred Bozeman High Marching Band members boarded charter planes in the wee hours Monday morning to fly to Los Angeles in advance of Friday's big Tournament of Roses Parade.

Two hundred lucky friends and family members flew down with them and will be able to see the New Year's Day parade in person. The rest of us will just have to try to catch the band on TV.

Two television networks, CBS and NBC, and one available only by satellite, Home & Garden TV, plan to carry the 110th Tournament of Roses Parade.

The parade itself begins at 9 a.m. MST and that's when NBC plans to begin its 90-minute coverage. CBS will start at 8 a.m. MST with an hour-long pre-parade show. Home & Garden TV is the only station that will carry the entire parade live and uninterrupted, but you have to be a satellite subscriber to receive its programming.

So when's the best time to try to see the Bozeman band? According to the official parade program, Bozeman is scheduled to march in spot No. 71 out of the 103 parade entries, right after a group of fezzwearing Shriners on horseback. All together there will be 56 floats, 22 marching bands and 25 equestrian teams.

There's no way to know how many seconds of fame Bozeman's band will get from CBS or NBC—there's no guarantee some jovial commentator or commercial break won't blot the Bozeman band out entirely. But the band's boosters did their best to make Bozeman sound colorful.

In the advance publicity sent to the parade organizers and the Home & Garden channel, Bozeman listed its famous alumni as actor Gary Cooper and New York Giants middle linebacker Corey Widmer, "who played trumpet in the band"; reported that Bozeman High was named one of the nation's top 10 schools by Redbook magazine; and said it snows every month in Bozeman.

The marching band has practiced in weather as low as 10 degrees with 40-mph gusts of wind blowing snow down the sousaphones," the school reported. "Airplane hangers are preferred practice sites in such weather."

It also boasted that Bozeman is the fly-fishing capital of the world and that Bozeman led the state in National Merit Scholars in 1997 and 1998.

Bozeman will be competing for air time with the likes of the Los Angeles Unified All District High School Honor Band, which reported logging 100 miles around Dodger Stadium to get in shape for the parade, and the Lincoln High School Band from Stockton, Calif., one of the nation's asparagus-growing leaders.

To hear the bands and see the flower-covered floats, one million people will line the five-and-a-half-mile parade route, according to the Pasadena Police Department. Many will bring sleeping bags and camp overnight.

In honor of the end of the century, this year's Rose parade will have four grand marshals, actress and diplomat Shirley Temple Black, David Wolper, who produced "Roots," a friend representing the late baseball great Jackie Robinson and astronaut Buzz Aldrin, who walked on the moon.

BOZEMAN HIGH BAND TAKES ITS PLACE IN ROSE PARADE HISTORY (By Ann Arbor Miller)

PASADENA, Calif.—Instruments in hand, shoelaces double-knotted and hair tucked inside hats topped with red and black plumes, the Bozeman High School Marching Band took its place in parade history.

The band, 298 teen-agers strong, marched the five-and-a-half mile route Friday through the heart of this Southern California city.

"I'm felling awesome," said junior Brandon Warwood during a brief break eight blocks from the end of the 110th Tournament of Roses Parade. "I could do this all day."

An estimated one million spectators, seated in stadium bleachers, lawn chairs and on the curb, lined the streets for the New Year's Day spectacle. They took to the roof tops of local businesses and apartment buildings. They built makeshift bleachers with step-ladders and wooden boards, topping the seats with blankets for padding.

Many shouted praise and cheers for the Bozeman band, whose members wore their stately, wool uniforms of black, red and silver.

"Go Bozeman."

"Looking good."

"Happy New year."

"Take the cold weather home with you."

Parade-goers left a trail of confetti, silly string and tortillas along the parade route.

Bozeman's appearance here was a first in the school's history and is certainly a rarity among Montana high schools. Many young musicians were still trying to comprehend their arrival here during the hour before the parade start at 9 a.m.

"It doesn't seem real," said freshman Jamie Booth. "It is so much bigger than any parade we've ever been in."

For Jeff Knacht, a 1998 Bozeman High graduate, Friday's event was a chance of a lifetime.

"We actually get to do it—a little nowhere town in Montana," said an amazed Knacht, one of half a dozen or so recent graduates asked to rejoin the band for this parade.

A full moon shone over the group as it made its way from a hotel in Buena Park, Calif., to Pasadena in the early morning. The band arrived in Pasadena at 8 a.m. MST, sleepy and groggy after the more than an hour drive.

On one of seven buses carrying band members to the parade the sounds of the Beach Boys and Aretha Franklin blared from the charter's sound system, courtesy of a Los Angeles radio station. The music prompted some musicians to dance in the aisle and sing along.

But the students' attention soon turned to more important tasks like adjusting chin straps and warming up their hands.

Band director Russ Newbury called a last minute check for all instruments.

A sense of nervousness and excitement loomed as band members settled in their positions and waited to take spot No. 71—behind the Araret Shrine Mounted Guard and its 17 horses and in front of an impressive float with a giant pair of Tyrannosaurus Rex.

Angel Medina, of California, knows the importance of a good seat. His grandson spent the night babysitting eight empty chairs on Colorado Boulevard to ensure the family had good views of the floats and bands.

"It's more fun to be closer," Medina said. "You can talk to the participants and even shake their hands."

Bozemen's marchers earned high marks from Medina, who admitted he's a huge fan of a good parade.

"It is always a beautiful day for a parade," he said.

Almost two hours after the Bozeman band began this parade trek, members passed a child holding a Magna Doodle that read: "Almost there."

Minutes later, the Bozeman High School Marching Band completed its journey with sore feet, much pride and a desperate thirst for water.●

MOTHER GERALDINE WRIGHT'S BIRTHDAY

● Mr. ABRAHAM. Mr. President, it gives me great pleasure to rise today to honor an outstanding individual, Mother Geraldine Marvel Miller Wright, on the occasion of her birthday on Sunday, February 28, 1999.

Mother Geraldine Wright, the wife of one of the nation's most prominent Bishops, the Bishop Earl J. Wright, Sr., the mother of three children, Earl Jr., Michael and Marvie; has learned how to labor in the ministry standing beside her husband and helping him in the work. This task is not new to Mother Wright—her lineage is made up of a host of leaders. Her father was a Bishop, her brother is a Bishop, and she has a brother-in-law who is also a Bishop.

Mother Geraldine Wright is an extraordinary example of what one can achieve through tenacity and a giving and loving heart. Through her love for God, family, church, and others, Mother Wright has made an impact in the lives of many hurting people. She untiringly stands by her husband's side, she visits and ministers to the sick, encourages others, helps others, gives to others, prays for others, but most of all, she is a trainer and builder of others. Training individuals to love God and work for the Lord seems to be one very important aspect of her calling.

Along with being the First Lady and Director of the Women's Department of Greater Miller Memorial Church of God in Christ and the Davis Memorial Church of God in Christ, Mother Wright is also a District Missionary in the New Creation District of the Second Ecclesiastical Jurisdiction of Southwest Michigan. She is the Founder of the Geraldine Marvel Miller Wright Institute for Women in the Ministry, which is one of Mother Wright's most outstanding accomplishments. This Institute serves as a catalyst of change in the lives of many young women who have dedicated their lives to the service and calling of the Lord Jesus Christ. Proverbs 31:28-30 sums up Mother Geraldine Wright best. It reads as follows:

Her children arise up, and call her blessed; her husband also, and he praiseth her. Many daughters have done virtuously, but thou excellest them all. Favour is deceitful, and beauty is vain: but a woman that feareth the Lord, she shall be praised. Give her of the fruit of her hands; and let her own words praise her in the gates.

So let it be known on this day, Sunday, February 28, 1999, that Mother Geraldine Marvel Miller Wright has been a leader of women and has impacted this nation and world, has left an indelible mark on the history of mankind.●

NOMINATION OF BILL LANN LEE

● Mrs. BOXER. Mr. President, I note with great pride that the President has announced his intention to nominate Mr. Bill Lann Lee, a native of my State of California, to be Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights in the Department of Justice.

The Senate will recall that Bill Lann Lee was nominated for this post more than a year and a half ago, in July 1997. His nomination died in the Judiciary Committee at the end of the 105th Congress. The majority of that Committee denied the full Senate a vote on the nomination because it knew Bill Lann Lee would have been confirmed if a vote had been taken.

Mr. President, I hope that the Judiciary Committee will not make the same mistake twice. Bill Lann Lee is fully qualified for this position. Indeed, I believe that he is the best person for the position. His personal history and his professional credentials both make him the perfect candidate to be Assistant Attorney for Civil Rights.

Bill Lann Lee was born in Harlem, the son of immigrants. He learned early in life about patriotism, from his father, who volunteered for military service in World War II in order to serve the adopted country that he loved so much. Bill Lee also learned from his parents, who ran a laundry, the value of hard work, a good education, and commitment to excellence.

Bill Lee spent most of his 24-year legal career with the NAACP Legal Defense and Education Fund, which was founded by Thurgood Marshall. He also spent several years in the 1980's working for the Center for Law in the Public Interest. Throughout his career, Bill Lee has demonstrated a talent for consensus building—surely one of the most important attributes for the top civil rights job.

Elected officials and other leaders from both parties have strongly endorsed Bill Lann Lee, including Los Angeles Mayor Richard Riordan, who said, in a letter to the White House: "Mr. Lee has practiced mainstream civil rights law. He does not believe in quotas. He has pursued flexible and reasonable remedies that in each case were approved by a court."

He has the endorsement of the National District Attorneys Association, which wrote: ". . . as the Assistant Attorney General for Civil Rights, he will remain fully cognizant of the need and expectations of the people of the U.S. to be provided effective, efficient and fair law enforcement services. . . he will do his utmost to ensure that honest and hardworking police officers are not tarnished by the acts of a few miscreants."

I join the many people across the country—lawyers, law enforcement, elected officials, and others—who want the Senate to finally confirm this splendid nominee for this very important post.●
