

REPROCESSED SINGLE USE MEDICAL DEVICE PATIENT SAFETY AMENDMENTS OF 1999

HON. ANNA G. ESHOO

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 26, 1999

Ms. ESHOO. Mr. Speaker, I rise to express my grave concerns about the practice of reprocessing and reusing single-use medical devices. There have been several recent media reports of medical devices intended for one use only being cleaned and used again on a different patient. Delicate devices, such as balloon catheters and biopsy forceps, are being reused on patients and causing infection and injuries.

It's estimated that as many as one in every three hospitals are reprocessing and reusing medical devices intended for single-use only. They are doing it without the consent of the patient and they are charging Medicare and the Federal Government the full price of a new device.

This practice is both deceptive and dangerous. Unsterile, brittle devices are injuring patients. A recent article in U.S. News & World Report told of a 50-year old woman who needed surgery when two reprocessed catheters broke during a brain scan. Premature babies have suffered infections from unsterile sutures. A biopsy patient was contaminated with hepatitis B from reused biopsy forceps.

Mr. Speaker, FDA clearly has the authority to regulate the practice of reusing medical devices yet it has failed to do so. Representative UPTON and I are introducing legislation today to ensure FDA regulation so that patients are protected. Our bill, the Reprocessed Single Use Medical Device Patient Safety Act of 1999, will require reprocessed medical devices to undergo pre-market approval for safety and effectiveness. The bill will also require hospitals to get a patient's informed consent before reusing a single-use medical device on them. Finally, the bill will require hospitals to monitor and report any injuries or infections that occur as a result of using a reprocessed medical device.

I understand the fiscal constraints hospitals are under. Managed health care has cut their payments so drastically that they feel pressured to cut costs wherever possible. However, we can't continue putting patients at risk in order to save a few dollars. We must put patients before profits. I urge my colleagues' support for the Reprocessed Single Use Medical Device Patient Safety Act of 1999.

TRIBUTE TO SETH RITCHIE, A
"NATIONAL CHAMP"

HON. SCOTT McINNIS

OF COLORADO

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 26, 1999

Mr. McINNIS. Mr. Speaker, I would like to take this time to tell you of a truly remarkable young man. He has seen hardships in his life that no one should ever have to endure. In 1994, he was in a terrible automobile accident that left him paralyzed and took the life of his dear friend Delano Garcia. Despite all this,

Seth Ritchie has risen above his grave personal adversity to win his division at the U.S. Wheelchair Open Tennis Championships.

Although Seth picked up wheelchair tennis just a year and a half ago, already he has excelled beyond anyone's expectations. Three months after his first tennis clinic in Grand Junction, Colorado, he was playing in his first tournament. Although he met some adversity in that tournament, he came right back, showing his true spirit in the next tournament held in Florida. There he was matched up against the best competition on the Eastern Seaboard, but still managed to win his division. Last summer at the Doris Denker Wheelchair Tournament he again ran into some tough competition. This did not slow him down. He traveled to San Diego, California to compete against players from all over the world in the U.S. Wheelchair Open Tennis Championships earlier this month. There he played in two matches a day that each lasted for up to three hours against players that had twenty years of experience on him. He won his division and became national champion.

Rarely do I hear a story like Seth Ritchie's. He is a truly remarkable young man who gives me inspiration to achieve more. I hope that more people can hear his story and gain from it what I have. So, it is with this, Mr. Speaker, that I say congratulations to Seth Ritchie for all of his accomplishments. He is a true hero and an inspiration to us all.

COMMEMORATING JUDGE DANIEL LEE KONKOL AS THE SOUTHSIDE BUSINESS CLUB MAN OF THE YEAR

HON. GERALD D. KLECZKA

OF WISCONSIN

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, October 26, 1999

Mr. KLECZKA. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Milwaukee Circuit Court Judge Daniel Konkol, named Man of the Year by the Southside Business Club. We celebrate his recognition because it is an affirmation of the American Dream, the story of a hardworking, first generation Polish-American who, by dint of hard work and perseverance, became one of the most respected jurists and community leaders in the Milwaukee area.

Daniel Lee Konkol attended DeSales Prep Seminary High School and graduated in 1969. Later he attended Marquette University where he received his B.A. degree in 1973 and his J.D. degree in 1976. Dan worked his way through high school and college holding many jobs, from a maintenance worker at various schools—and even a convent—to a short order cook at a drive-in run by his neighbor.

It didn't take long for Dan's talent and commitment to catch the eye of those in the legal community. Following graduation from law school, Dan was hired as an assistant district attorney for Racine County. He worked there for eight years under three district attorneys, gaining experience in prosecuting all types of criminal matters including homicides, armed robberies, burglaries, domestic violence, and welfare fraud.

In 1985, Dan was appointed an assistant Milwaukee County court commissioner by Circuit Court Chief Judge Victor Manian. While a commissioner in 1988, Dan published in the Milwaukee Lawyer an article titled "The New Paternity Law: Law and Procedures." In 1990, he received a Wisconsin State Bar Commendation for an article he published in the Wisconsin Lawyer titled "Civil Restraining Orders, Distinguishing Domestic Abuse and Harassment."

In 1992, with extensive help from many friends and relatives, Dan ran a low-budget election campaign and was selected by voters as judge of the newly created Milwaukee County Circuit Court Branch 44. In 1998 he was re-elected without opposition.

He is known for his signature sky blue judicial robes, his excellent judicial record and his involvement in numerous fraternal, business, and civic organizations.

Mr. Speaker, I proudly commend Judge Daniel Konkol, named Man of the Year by the Southside Business Club.
