

NOMINATION OF JAMES MAHAN

Mr. REID. Mr. President, I am very pleased that the Senate has approved Judge James C. Mahan, of Las Vegas, to be the next judge on the United States District Court for the District of Nevada.

May I say on behalf of my colleague, Senator ENSIGN, and myself that Jim Mahan has the unequivocal support of both Senators from Nevada.

Jim Mahan currently serves as a Judge on the Eighth Judicial District Court in Clark County, Nevada. He was Governor Kenny Guinn's first judicial appointment to the Clark County District Court in February 1999, an appointment that reflects the deep respect Judge Mahan has garnered from his colleagues and other Nevada officials. Since taking the bench on March 8, 1999, he has presided over a docket of more than 3,000 civil and criminal cases. Despite this heavy docket, Judge Mahan also hears probate matters, drug court and grand jury returns on a regular basis.

As my colleagues have heard me state on numerous occasions, Las Vegas has been the fastest growing metropolitan community in the United States for more than a decade. Very hard work and dedication is required of our judges, policemen, firemen, and other civil servants on a daily basis.

These qualities will serve Judge Mahan well on the U.S. District Court for the District of Nevada, whose docket has increased at a rate that mirrors the explosive growth of my home State, especially Las Vegas.

I am so proud to have played a role in creating three additional judgeships for the District of Nevada over the last few years.

Prior to the Senate's confirmation of Roger Hunt and Kent Dawson last year, and Larry Hickes last month, Nevadans seeking justice in Federal court were forced to wait up to 3 years before their case went to trial. And these delays may have been worse had it not been for our hard working judges. Those judges hear, on average, more cases than any active judges throughout the country.

Although the docket remains one of the busiest in the Federal judiciary, these judgeships—and the fine jurists who have filled them—have had an immediate impact on the Federal bench in Nevada. When he takes his place on the District Court, Jim Mahan will be a tremendous asset to what is already one of the finest courts in the nation.

As he assumes his new judgeship, Judge Mahan also will be taking a wealth of other experiences with him to the bench. Before becoming a judge, he and Frank A. Ellis III formed the law firm of Mahan & Ellis, where they practiced business and commercial law for 17 years in Las Vegas.

A long-time resident of Las Vegas, having lived and practiced law continuously since 1973, Jim was admitted to practice in Nevada in 1974 in both State and Federal court, the Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals in 1974, and the U.S. Supreme Court in 1980.

Jim Mahan was born in El Paso, TX, on December 16, 1943. His family eventually moved to Grand Junction, CO, where he graduated from high school. Jim graduated from the University of Charleston in Charleston, WV, in 1965, and received his law degree from Vanderbilt University School of Law in 1973. In between his graduate and law school studies, Jim served in the United States Navy.

Jim has been blessed with a beautiful family. He and his wife of 33 years, Eileen, are the proud parents of one son James, Junior, who is a graduate from the University of Southern California.

In short, Jim Mahan has already proven that he is an excellent judge and a fine Nevadan. He will make an outstanding addition to the Federal bench.

CAMPAIGN FINANCE REFORM

Mr. FEINGOLD. Mr. President, our victory Thursday on campaign finance reform was a tremendous victory for the American people, and it wouldn't have been possible without the tremendous support of grassroots organizations whose members and staff worked tirelessly to help us pass this bill. I mentioned a few of those organizations on the floor yesterday, but I wanted to take this opportunity today to single out four other groups who made invaluable contributions to our effort as part of the Americans For Reform coalition. The Sierra Club, AARP, the League of Women Voters, and NETWORK, the Catholic social justice lobby, deserve special recognition for the work they did on this legislation. I would also like to thank John Weaver and Lanny Wiles for their assistance during this effort. In particular, I am grateful to the people of Wisconsin whose support for this issue has been strong and steadfast.

THE 90TH ANNIVERSARY OF THE GIRL SCOUTS OF THE USA

Mr. BROWNBACK. Mr. President, I would like to take this opportunity to recognize the 90th anniversary of the Girl Scouts of the USA, GSUSA, this month. Girl Scouting began on March 12, 1912, when founder Juliet Gordon Low assembled 18 girls from Savannah, GA. She believed that girls should be given the opportunity to develop physically, mentally, and spiritually.

This excellent organization empowers girls to develop their full potential, to relate positively to others and their community, and to promote sound values and community service. GSUSA continues to expand its programs to address contemporary issues affecting girls, while maintaining its original core values. The organization's foundation is still premised on the original 1912 "Girl Scout Promise and Law."

Today, Girl Scouting has a membership of 3.8 million, comprised of 2.7 million girl members and over 900,000 adult members, making this the largest organization for girls worldwide. Moreover, this American organization is a member of the larger worldwide family of 10 million girls and adults in 140 countries.

Through Girl Scouting, girls acquire self-confidence and expertise, take on responsibilities, are encouraged to think creatively and act with integrity, all qualities essential for good citizenship and great leaders. At each level of Girl Scouting, girls engage in numerous activities including science and technology, sports, health and fitness, the arts, global awareness, community service, money management and finance, and much more. Importantly, the organization has established a research institute, receiving government funding to address violence prevention. It is also addressing the digital divide with activities that encourage girls to pursue careers in science, math, and technology.

In 2001, GSUSA launched a major initiative rededicating themselves to their founder's vision of empowering girls to grow into healthy, resourceful citizens. They are diligently working to ensure that Girl Scouting is available to every girl in every community, reaching beyond racial, ethnic, socioeconomic or geographic boundaries. Girl Scout troops meet everywhere including suburban, urban and rural areas, homeless shelters, migrant farm camps, and juvenile detention facilities. Some girls meet online via the Internet. And through one of Girl Scout's signature initiatives, Girl Scouts Beyond Bars, girls meet in prisons where their mothers are incarcerated.

Out of the almost one million adults in Girl Scouting, 99 percent are volunteers. While Girl Scouts enjoys the largest adult involvement of all such organizations, new leaders and mentors are constantly needed to serve the increasing number of participants who desire to be Girl Scouts.

Though the first troops met before women were given the right to vote, 90 years later there is a "Troop Capitol Hill" made up entirely of Congresswomen who are honorary Girl Scouts. More than 50 million women are alumnae. Over two-thirds of our doctors, lawyers, educators, community leaders, and women Members of Congress were once members of Girl Scouting, as were 64 percent of the women listed in "Who's Who of American Women."

For 90 years this month, this respected organization has demonstrated a proven track record of empowering girls to become leaders, equipping adults to be positive role models and mentors for children, and helping to build strong communities. With the support and dedication of Congress, Girl Scouts will surely continue this fine tradition for the next 90 years and beyond.

Mr. CORZINE. Mr. President, I rise today to celebrate the 90th anniversary
