

where, as the Good Book says, we should come and reason together, work out our differences, achieve consensus, and try to help govern the Nation in a way that the people would want the Nation governed.

So, too, as many other things, including in the faith-based arena, we find deep schisms and we find a difficulty in people coming together. We have seen that, unfortunately, throughout the history of man. So often religion has been the dividing factor that has called people to war, to hate, and to kill. We see that among a faith that ought to be a unifying case in Northern Ireland. Yet because one group calls themselves Protestant and another Catholic, they have chosen the path of war. We see that now where the United States has so much interest in central Asia as a result of one religion playing off against another, people attacking us because of religion.

In the Scriptures, from the ancient Scriptures in the Old Testament through to the New Testament, we find the true word of the Lord was that He wanted people to love one another, to bring people together, to be reconcilers instead of dividers. I share that little glimpse into history which was taught in the Old Testament. Clearly, the message of Jesus of Nazareth was: Love God, and love others as yourself. That was the sum of all the law that had been handed down.

I share this little religious history lesson as I proudly introduce my friend, Jim Henry. He found himself in a position where he had to be a reconciler, a healer, someone who brought people together in the midst of a storm. I am very honored that our guest Chaplain today has been the Reverend Jim Henry from the First Baptist Church of Orlando.

I yield the floor.

STATEMENTS ON THE NOMINATIONS OF PERCY ANDERSON AND JACK WALTER

Mr. LEAHY. Madam President, today, the Senate is voting on the 47th and 48th judicial nominees to be confirmed since last July when the Senate Judiciary Committee reorganized after the shift in the Senate majority. With today's votes on Percy Anderson and Jack Walter to the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California, the Senate will have confirmed its 38th and 39th district court judges in the less than 10 months since I became chairman this past summer. This is addition to the 9 judges confirmed to the Courts of Appeals. So the total number of Federal judges confirmed since the change in Senate majority will now be 48. Moreover, with the confirmations of these nominees, the Senate will have resolved 9 judicial emergencies since we returned to session and helped fill 16 emergency vacancies since I became chairman this past summer. The confirmation of these nominees today demonstrates, again, the speed with which President Bush's nominees are receiving consideration by the Judiciary Committee and the Senate.

Percy Anderson, is a nominee to the U.S. District Court in the District of California. He is filling a judicial emergency vacancy that has been pending for more than 1,360 days. Mr. Anderson was nominated to fill the vacancy left by the elevation of Kim McLane Wardlaw in 1998. I recall that President Clinton nominated Frederic Woocher to fill this judicial emergency vacancy on May 27, 1999. Mr. Woocher was one of those who received a hearing before the Judiciary Committee but was never placed on the agenda to receive a vote. He was one of the lucky judicial nominees who got a hearing, with the support of his home-state Senators, but his nomination was ultimately frustrated by never being considered by the Judiciary Committee.
