

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. MCCONNELL. Mr. President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDENT pro tempore. Without objection, it is so ordered.

DEPARTMENT OF HOMELAND SECURITY NOMINATIONS

Mr. FRIST. Mr. President, today the Senate received from the President the nominations for the positions of Secretary of Homeland Security and Deputy Secretary of Homeland Security. I understand that these nominations will be referred to the Committee on Governmental Affairs because at this time the primary responsibility of these two officials will be to implement the structural reorganization of disparate entities into this new agency. I understand that in the future nominations for various positions created by the Homeland Security Act of 2002 may be referred on the basis of the responsibilities of those officials at that time, and that the initial referral of these nominations will not serve as precedent binding the Chair in the future.

ADDITIONAL STATEMENTS

THE SALT RIVER PROJECT'S 100TH ANNIVERSARY

• Mr. KYL. Mr. President, my best wishes today go to the Salt River Project on the celebration of its centennial of service to the communities of central Arizona.

When the Salt River Project, or SRP, was created on February 7, 1903, Arizona was still a territory and the people who had settled its central desert valleys had just endured a period of devastating droughts. They knew the future of their farms, businesses, and families depended on securing a reliable supply of water. If they failed, they were sure to witness the continued withering of their farms and livelihoods.

With commitment, they banded together to form the Salt River Valley Water Users Association, later to become SRP. With courage, they mortgaged their lands as debt collateral for a federal loan that was granted under terms of the National Reclamation Act of 1902. And the result eight years later was the completion of a great monolithic stone dam that was named after the President, Theodore Roosevelt. It would be the first of other dams and water works built through partnership with SRP and federal and local governments to ensure the economic vitality of my native state.

Without Roosevelt Dam, Arizona's early communities could not have grown. Similarly, growth would not have continued without SRP's development and management of early hydro-power resources and later leadership and partnership in constructing extensive generation and transmission systems to fuel Arizona's economy.

In the past century, SRP has become Arizona's largest water supplier and the third largest public power provider in the nation. It has gained a reputation as a utility with a record for service, safety, and commitment to the environment and human services. As SRP celebrates its centennial, it deserves recognition for its past achievements and for the important role it will continue to play in Arizona's advancement in the 21st century.●

TRIBUTE TO GOVERNOR FELIX CAMACHO AND LT. GOVERNOR KALEO MOYLAN

• Mr. BURNS. Mr. President, hafa adai and happy new year from our Nation's capital. It gives me great pleasure to congratulate Governor Felix Camacho and Lt. Governor Kaleo Moylan on their inauguration day as the seventh elected governor and lieutenant governor of Guam.

Guam's people have shown their patriotism to America time and time again. Indeed, it is this allegiance, coupled with a rich island culture, that make Guam so unique in our American family and an integral and indispensable part of our nation. As incoming Chairman of the Appropriations Subcommittee on Interior and Related Agencies, I look forward to working with both the governor and lieutenant governor, as we tackle Guam's present challenges.

As they embark on rebuilding their community, some progress will be swift and dramatic. At other times, improvements may be slower and only with perseverance and diligent hard work will they be finally achieved. Together, Guam and Washington will overcome these challenges.

I join the people of Guam in congratulating Governor Felix Camacho and Lt. Governor Kaleo Moylan, once again, and I look forward to meeting and working with them to address their island's needs. For this reason and in order to memorialize this moment, I have submitted this letter to be published in the CONGRESSIONAL RECORD on January 7, 2003.●

RETIREMENT OF JERRY SONGY

• Mr. BOND. Mr. President, in 1998, the Senate passed the Internal Revenue Service Restructuring and Reform Act, which I strongly supported. This landmark legislation set the Internal Revenue Service, IRS, on a new course, one that most Members of this body would agree is the right one. Today, the IRS is much more focused on customer service and education to achieve compliance with the Nation's tax laws.

It takes more than a new law, however, to change the way an agency fulfills its mission. It takes talented people committed to those reforms in order to turn the words in the statute into reality. We all know the role that former Commissioner Charles O. Rossotti played in restructuring the agency, and I commend him again for his invaluable service to the IRS and the Nation.

Today, I rise to recognize one of Mr. Rossotti's key aides, Jerry Songy, who is retiring after 34 years of dedication to agency. In early 1998, Jerry was selected to lead an organizational modernization effort that was intended to transform the IRS into a more customer-focused organization. Jerry's contributions to this business-process reengineering effort have greatly improved the delivery of products and services to all of America's taxpayers, and small businesses and the self-employed taxpayers in particular.

In addition to serving as Executive Director, Modernization Design, Jerry was instrumental in the design of the Small Business/Self-Employed, SB/SE, operating division, which serves approximately 45 million small businesses and self-employed taxpayers. He was also a driving force in the creation of the Taxpayer Education and Communication, TEC, section and has led the SB/SE division in its outreach and education efforts to small business and self-employed taxpayers. As the former Chairman and Ranking Member of the Committee on Small Business and Entrepreneurship, I had the pleasure of working with Jerry in that capacity.

Through his efforts, the IRS has created innovative web site applications, multilingual CDs, and a series of web cast programs to assist taxpayers with their tax filing and payment responsibilities. The IRS has partnered with tax practitioner and payroll organizations, trade and professional organizations, educational institutions, and corporate America on joint tax education initiatives. In short, our constituents are seeing the tangible benefits of Jerry's hard work on behalf of small enterprises across the nation.

Jerry was born and raised in New Orleans, LA and graduated from Loyola University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting. He has two sons, three grandchildren, and will be joined in retirement by his wife, Lea, who also has had a distinguished career with the IRS.

On behalf of the 45 million small businesses and self-employed taxpayers throughout the country that have benefitted from his hard work and dedication, I commend Jerry Songy for his exemplary contributions to public service.●

TRIBUTE TO BONNIE NICKOL

• Mrs. LINCOLN. Mr. President, I rise today to pay tribute to Bonnie Nickol of Little Rock, Arkansas, who has committed herself to helping working families in Arkansas through the Arkansas Single Parent Scholarship Fund.

Bonnie's first involvement with the scholarship fund came in 1997. The fund's director, Ralph Nesson, knowing of Bonnie's interest in education, introduced her to several of the people who benefit from this statewide network of scholarship programs that help single parents get the education they need to better provide for their families. Bonnie was touched by the efforts
