STATEMENTS ON INTRODUCED BILLS AND JOINT RESOLUTIONS

By Mr. DASCHLE (for himself, Mr. LUGAR, Mr. HAGEL, Mr. DORGAN, Mr. JOHNSON, Mr. VOINOVICH, Mr. HARKIN, Mr. BOND, Mr. NELSON of Nebraska, Mr. GRASSLEY, Mr. DURBIN, Mr. TALENT, Mr. DAYTON, Mr. FITZGERALD, Mr. COLEMAN, and Mr. CONRAD):

S. 385. A bill to amend the Clean Air Act to eliminate methyl tertiary butyl ether from the United States fuel supply, to increase production and use of renewable fuel, and to increase the Nation's energy independence, and for other purposes; to the Committee on Environmental and Public Works.

Mr. DASCHLE. Madam President, headlines in daily papers all across the country underscore our economy's vulnerability to foreign oil.

Today, a new generation is learning what many Americans have known since the 1970s—our economic security and our national security depend on our energy security.

Today I, along with a number of my colleagues, am introducing the Fuels Security Act of 2003.

This bill responds directly to our Nation's unhealthy reliance on imported oil by establishing greater flexibility in our gasoline regulations, and by tripling the use of domestic, renewable fuels over the next 10 years.

This legislation is identical to the fuels agreement included in last year's Senate-passed energy bill.

Based on the experience we have gained over the last seven years with the reformulated gasoline program, the Fuel Security Act bill makes a number of important changes in Federal law.

It bans MTBE in 4 years, authorizes funding to cleanup MTBE contamination and fix leaking underground tanks, allows the most polluted states to opt into the reformulated gasoline program, and provides all States with additional authority under the Clean Air Act to address air quality concerns.

It eliminates the oxygen requirement from the RFG program, a change that is very important to states that are planning to remove MTBE from their gasoline supplies in the near future.

To preserve the hard-fought air quality gains that have resulted from the implementation of that requirement, the bill creates a renewable fuels standard that will nearly triple the use of renewable fuels like ethanol and biodiesel over the next 10 years.

Finally, the bill also provides special encouragement to biomass-based ethanol, which holds great promise for converting a variety of organic materials into useful fuel, while substantially reducing greenhouse gas emissions.

Ethanol comes from American farmers and producers, passes through American refiners, and fuels American energy needs. No soldier has to fight overseas to protect it. And no international cartel could turn off the spigot.

For years, we talked about those benefits with a sense of resignation. After all, these aren't new arguments, and yet there were a lot of people who still saw ethanol as a boutique fuel, not a real answer to our energy problems.

With this legislation, we intend to change that preception—and get America moving toward energy independence.

The renewable fuels standard will be a win-win-win. It will help the environment, it will help the rural economies which are hurting right now, and it will help reduce America's dangerous dependence on foreign oil.

I believe we can make it law. During consideration of the Energy Bill last summer, the Senate endorsed the Renewable Fuels Standard package by a vote of 69 to 30.

Overall, this legislation is a careful balance of often disparate and competing interests—and a compromise in the finest tradition of the U.S. Senate.

Just look at some of the organizations whose active support is helping to make this legislation possible: The Northeast States Coordinated Air Use Management Agency, the American Petroleum Institute, the Clean Fuels Development Coalition, the American Lung Association, the American Coalition for Ethanol, the Renewable Fuels Association, the Governor's Ethanol Coalition, the National Farmers Union, the American Farm Bureau, the National Corn Growers Association, and the American Corn Growers Association.
