"§ 527. Disclosures

"(a) A debt relief agency providing bankruptcy assistance to an assisted person shall provide—

"(1) the written notice required under section 342(b)(1); and

"(2) to the extent not covered in the written notice described in paragraph (1), and not later than 3 business days after the first date on which a debt relief agency first offers to provide any bankruptcy assistance services to an assisted person, a clear and conspicuous written notice advising assisted persons that—

"(A) all information that the assisted person is required to provide with a petition and thereafter during a case under this title is required to be complete, accurate, and truthful;

"(B) all assets and all liabilities are required to be completely and accurately disclosed in the documents filed to commence the case, and the replacement value of each asset as defined in section 506 must be stated in those documents where requested after reasonable inquiry to establish such value;

"(C) current monthly income, the amounts specified in section 707(b)(2), and, in a case under chapter 13 of this title, disposable income (determined in accordance with section 707(b)(2)), are required to be stated after reasonable inquiry; and

"(D) information that an assisted person provides during their case may be audited pursuant to this title, and that failure to provide such information may result in dismissal of the case under this title or other sanction, including a criminal sanction.

"(b) A debt relief agency providing bankruptcy assistance to an assisted person shall provide each assisted person at the same time as the notices required under subsection (a)(1) the following statement, to the extent applicable, or one substantially similar. The statement shall be clear and conspicuous and shall be in a single document separate from other documents or notices provided to the assisted person:

"IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT BANKRUPTCY ASSISTANCE SERVICES FROM AN ATTORNEY OR BANKRUPTCY PETITION PREPARER.

"If you decide to seek bankruptcy relief, you can represent yourself, you can hire an attorney to represent you, or you can get help in some localities from a bankruptcy petition preparer who is not an attorney. THE LAW REQUIRES AN ATTORNEY OR BANKRUPTCY PETITION PREPARER TO GIVE YOU A WRITTEN CONTRACT SPECIFYING WHAT THE ATTORNEY OR BANKRUPTCY PETITION PREPARER WILL DO FOR YOU AND HOW MUCH IT WILL COST. Ask to see the contract before you hire anyone.

"The following information helps you understand what must be done in a routine bankruptcy case to help you evaluate how much service you need. Although bankruptcy can be complex, many cases are routine.

"Before filing a bankruptcy case, either you or your attorney should analyze your eligibility for different forms of debt relief available under the Bankruptcy Code and which form of relief is most likely to be beneficial for you. Be sure you understand the relief you can obtain and its limitations. To file a bankruptcy case, documents called a Petition, Schedules and Statement of Financial Affairs, as well as in some cases a Statement of Intention need to be prepared correctly and filed with the bankruptcy court. You will have to pay a filing fee to the bankruptcy court. Once your case starts, you will have to attend the required first meeting of creditors where you may be questioned by a court official called a 'trustee' and by creditors.

"If you choose to file a chapter 7 case, you may be asked by a creditor to reaffirm a debt. You may want help deciding whether to do so. A creditor is not permitted to coerce you into reaffirming your debts.

"If you choose to file a chapter 13 case in which you repay your creditors what you can afford over 3 to 5 years, you may also want help with preparing your chapter 13 plan and with the confirmation hearing on your plan which will be before a bankruptcy judge.

"If you select another type of relief under the Bankruptcy Code other than chapter 7 or chapter 13, you will want to find out what should be done from someone familiar with that type of relief.

"Your bankruptcy case may also involve litigation. You are generally permitted to represent yourself in litigation in bankruptcy court, but only attorneys, not bankruptcy petition preparers, can give you legal advice."

"(c) Except to the extent the debt relief agency provides the required information itself after reasonably diligent inquiry of the assisted person or others so as to obtain such information reasonably accurately for inclusion on the petition, schedules or statement of financial affairs, a debt relief agency providing bankruptcy assistance to an assisted person, to the extent permitted by nonbankruptcy law, shall provide each assisted person at the time required for the notice required under subsection (a)(1) reasonably sufficient information (which shall be provided in a clear and conspicuous writing) to the assisted person on how to provide all the information the assisted person is required to provide under this title pursuant to section 521, including—

“(1) how to value assets at replacement value, determine current monthly income, the amounts specified in section 707(b)(2) and, in a chapter 13 case, how to determine disposable income in accordance with section 707(b)(2) and related calculations;

“(2) how to complete the list of creditors, including how to determine what amount is owed and what address for the creditor should be shown; and

“(3) how to determine what property is exempt and how to value exempt property at replacement value as defined in section 506.

“(d) A debt relief agency shall maintain a copy of the notices required under subsection (a) of this section for 2 years after the date on which the notice is given the assisted person.”

(2) there should be established a bankruptcy data system in which—

(A) a single set of data definitions and forms are used to collect data nationwide; and

"§ 1503. International obligations of the United States

"A case under this chapter is commenced by the filing of a petition for recognition of a foreign proceeding under section 1515.

"§ 1505. Authorization to act in a foreign country

"A trustee or another entity (including an examiner) may be authorized by the court to act in a foreign country on behalf of an estate created under section 541. An entity authorized to act under this section may act in any way permitted by the applicable foreign law.

"§ 1509. Right of direct access

"(a) A foreign representative may commence a case under section 1504 by filing directly with the court a petition for recognition of a foreign proceeding under section 1515.

"(b) If the court grants recognition under section 1515, and subject to any limitations that the court may impose consistent with the policy of this chapter—

"(1) the foreign representative has the capacity to sue and be sued in a court in the United States;

"(2) the foreign representative may apply directly to a court in the United States for appropriate relief in that court; and

"(3) a court in the United States shall grant comity or cooperation to the foreign representative.

“(e) Whether or not the court grants recognition, and subject to sections 306 and 1510, a foreign representative is subject to applicable nonbankruptcy law.

“(f) Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, the failure of a foreign representative to commence a case or to obtain recognition under this chapter does not affect any right the foreign representative may have to sue in a court in the United States to collect or recover a claim which is the property of the debtor.

“§ 1510. Limited jurisdiction

“The sole fact that a foreign representative files a petition under section 1515 does not subject the foreign representative to the jurisdiction of any court in the United States for any other purpose.

“§ 1511. Commencement of case under section 301 or 303

“(a) Upon recognition, a foreign representative may commence—

“(1) an involuntary case under section 303; or

“(2) a voluntary case under section 301 or 302, if the foreign proceeding is a foreign main proceeding.

“(b) The petition commencing a case under subsection (a) must be accompanied by a certified copy of an order granting recognition. The court where the petition for recognition has been filed must be advised of the foreign representative's intent to commence a case under subsection (a) prior to such commencement.

“§ 1512. Participation of a foreign representative in a case under this title

“§ 1513. Access of foreign creditors to a case under this title

“(a) Foreign creditors have the same rights regarding the commencement of, and participation in, a case under this title as domestic creditors.

“(b)(1) Subsection (a) does not change or codify present law as to the priority of claims under section 507 or 726, except that the claim of a foreign creditor under those sections shall not be given a lower priority than that of general unsecured claims without priority solely because the holder of such claim is a foreign creditor.

“(2)(A) Subsection (a) and paragraph (1) do not change or codify present law as to the allowability of foreign revenue claims or other foreign public law claims in a proceeding under this title.

“(B) Allowance and priority as to a foreign tax claim or other foreign public law claim shall be governed by any applicable tax treaty of the United States, under the conditions and circumstances specified therein.

“§ 1514. Notification to foreign creditors concerning a case under this title

“(a) Whenever in a case under this title notice is to be given to creditors generally or to any class or category of creditors, such notice shall also be given to the known creditors generally, or to creditors in the notified class or category, that do not have addresses in the United States. The court may order that appropriate steps be taken with a view to notifying any creditor whose address is not yet known.

“(b) Such notification to creditors with foreign addresses described in subsection (a) shall be given individually, unless the court considers that, under the circumstances, some other form of notification would be more appropriate. No letter or other formality is required.

“(c) When a notification of commencement of a case is to be given to foreign creditors, such notification shall—

“(1) indicate the time period for filing proofs of claim and specify the place for filing such proofs of claim;

“(2) indicate whether secured creditors need to file proofs of claim; and

“(3) contain any other information required to be included in such notification to creditors under this title and the orders of the court.

“(d) Any rule of procedure or order of the court as to notice or the filing of a proof of claim shall provide such additional time to creditors with foreign addresses as is reasonable under the circumstances.

“SUBCHAPTER III—RECOGNITION OF A FOREIGN PROCEEDING AND RELIEF

“§ 1515. Application for recognition

“(a) A foreign representative applies to the court for recognition of a foreign proceeding in which the foreign representative has been appointed by filing a petition for recognition.

“(b) A petition for recognition shall be accompanied by—

“(1) a certified copy of the decision commencing such foreign proceeding and appointing the foreign representative;

“(2) a certificate from the foreign court affirming the existence of such foreign proceeding and of the appointment of the foreign representative; or

“(3) in the absence of evidence referred to in paragraphs (1) and (2), any other evidence acceptable to the court of the existence of such foreign proceeding and of the appointment of the foreign representative.

“(c) A petition for recognition shall also be accompanied by a statement identifying all foreign proceedings with respect to the debtor that are known to the foreign representative.

“(d) The documents referred to in paragraphs (1) and (2) of subsection (b) shall be translated into English. The court may require a translation into English of additional documents.

“§ 1516. Presumptions concerning recognition

“(a) If the decision or certificate referred to in section 1515(b) indicates that the foreign proceeding is a foreign proceeding and that the person or body is a foreign representative, the court is entitled to so presume.

“(b) The court is entitled to presume that documents submitted in support of the petition for recognition are authentic, whether or not they have been legalized.

“(c) In the absence of evidence to the contrary, the debtor's registered office, or habitual residence in the case of an individual, is presumed to be the center of the debtor's main interests.

“§ 1517. Order granting recognition

“(a) Subject to section 1506, after notice and a hearing, an order recognizing a foreign proceeding shall be entered if—

“(1) such foreign proceeding for which recognition is sought is a foreign main proceeding or foreign nonmain proceeding within the meaning of section 1502;

“(2) the foreign representative applying for recognition is a person or body; and

“(3) the petition meets the requirements of section 1515.

“(b) Such foreign proceeding shall be recognized—

“(1) as a foreign main proceeding if it is pending in the country where the debtor has the center of its main interests; or

“(2) as a foreign nonmain proceeding if the debtor has an establishment within the meaning of section 1502 in the foreign country where the proceeding is pending.

“(c) A petition for recognition of a foreign proceeding shall be decided upon at the earliest possible time. Entry of an order recognizing a foreign proceeding constitutes recognition under this chapter.

“(d) The provisions of this subchapter do not prevent modification or termination of recognition if it is shown that the grounds for granting it were fully or partially lacking or have ceased to exist, but in considering such action the court shall give due weight to possible prejudice to parties that have relied upon the order granting recognition. A case under this chapter may be closed in the manner prescribed under section 350.

“§ 1518. Subsequent information

“From the time of filing the petition for recognition of a foreign proceeding, the foreign representative shall file with the court promptly a notice of change of status concerning—

“(1) any substantial change in the status of such foreign proceeding or the status of the foreign representative's appointment; and

“(2) any other foreign proceeding regarding the debtor that becomes known to the foreign representative.

“§ 1519. Relief that may be granted upon filing petition for recognition

“(a) From the time of filing a petition for recognition until the court rules on the petition, the court may, at the request of the foreign representative, where relief is urgently needed to protect the assets of the debtor or the interests of the creditors, grant relief of a provisional nature, including—

“(1) staying execution against the debtor's assets;

“(2) entrusting the administration or realization of all or part of the debtor's assets located in the United States to the foreign representative or another person authorized by the court, including an examiner, in order to protect and preserve the value of assets that, by their nature or because of other circumstances, are perishable, susceptible to devaluation or otherwise in jeopardy; and

“(3) any relief referred to in paragraph (3), (4), or (7) of section 1521(a).

“(b) Unless extended under section 1521(a)(6), the relief granted under this section terminates when the petition for recognition is granted.

“(c) It is a ground for denial of relief under this section that such relief would interfere with the administration of a foreign main proceeding.

“(d) The court may not enjoin a police or regulatory act of a governmental unit, including a criminal action or proceeding, under this section.

“(e) The standards, procedures, and limitations applicable to an injunction shall apply to relief under this section.

“(f) The exercise of rights not subject to the stay arising under section 362(a) pursuant to paragraph (6), (7), (17), or (27) of section 362(b) or pursuant to section 362(n) shall not be stayed by any order of a court or administrative agency in any proceeding under this chapter.

“§ 1520. Effects of recognition of a foreign main proceeding

“(a) Upon recognition of a foreign proceeding that is a foreign main proceeding—

“(1) sections 361 and 362 apply with respect to the debtor and the property of the debtor that is within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States;

“(2) sections 363, 549, and 552 apply to a transfer of an interest of the debtor in property that is within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States to the same extent that the sections would apply to property of an estate;

“(3) unless the court orders otherwise, the foreign representative may operate the debtor’s business and may exercise the rights and powers of a trustee under and to the extent provided by sections 363 and 552; and

“(4) section 552 applies to property of the debtor that is within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States.

“(b) Subsection (a) does not affect the right to commence an individual action or proceeding in a foreign country to the extent necessary to preserve a claim against the debtor.

“(c) Subsection (a) does not affect the right of a foreign representative or an entity to file a petition commencing a case under this title or the right of any party to file claims or take other proper actions in such a case.

“§ 1521. Relief that may be granted upon recognition

“(a) Upon recognition of a foreign proceeding, whether main or nonmain, where necessary to effectuate the purpose of this chapter and to protect the assets of the debtor or the interests of the creditors, the court may, at the request of the foreign representative, grant any appropriate relief, including—

“(1) staying the commencement or continuation of an individual action or proceeding concerning the debtor’s assets, rights, obligations or liabilities to the extent they have not been stayed under section 1520(a);

“(2) staying execution against the debtor’s assets to the extent it has not been stayed under section 1520(a);

“(3) suspending the right to transfer, encumber or otherwise dispose of any assets of the debtor to the extent this right has not been suspended under section 1520(a);

“(4) providing for the examination of witnesses, the taking of evidence or the delivery of information concerning the debtor’s assets, affairs, rights, obligations or liabilities;

“(5) entrusting the administration or realization of all or part of the debtor’s assets within the territorial jurisdiction of the United States to the foreign representative or another person, including an examiner, authorized by the court;

“(6) extending relief granted under section 1519(a); and “(7) granting any additional relief that may be available to a trustee, except for relief available under sections 522, 544, 545, 547, 548, 550, and 724(a).

(b) APPLICATION OF AMENDMENTS.—

(1) IN GENERAL.—Except as otherwise provided in this Act and paragraph (2), the amendments made by this Act shall not apply with respect to cases commenced under title 11, United States Code, before the effective date of this Act.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. Pursuant to House Resolution 147, the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER) and a Member opposed each will control 20 minutes.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment and claim the time.

The CHAIRMAN pro tempore. The gentleman from Wisconsin (Mr. SENSENBRENNER) will be recognized for 20 minutes in opposition.

The Chair recognizes the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER).

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I am offering this substitute amendment on behalf of the gentleman from Michigan (Mr. CONYERS) to make the bill a truly balanced reform measure by promoting responsibility for both debtors and lenders alike.

Unfortunately, the bill being brought to the floor today is little more than a package of special interest amendments that will distort the bankruptcy system, hurting the most financially desperate families, shut down distressed businesses and do nothing to stop predatory lending or collection practices.

The substitute will make a number of changes to the bill to ensure responsibility, without encouraging abuse of the system by debtors or by creditors.

The substitute replaces the one-size-fits-all means test with a clear standard that takes into account the debtor's real income and real expenses. That is not what the bill does now. The bill before us would calculate a family's ability to repay its debts by looking at income they no longer have and costs of living that some IRS bureaucrat thinks their expenses should be, rather than what their expenses really are.

Since when did the IRS bill collectors become the gold standard for accountability and fairness? This Congress ordered the IRS as part of IRS reform a few years ago to exercise more lenience and flexibility in the use of these collection standards. But in this bill these old standards which we discarded for tax cheats are sacrosanct for debtors.

So what happens if the IRS gets it wrong? What happens if rents in your town or other costs of living do not resemble what the IRS thinks they are? Under this bill you would have to get a lawyer and prove that the IRS is wrong and the cost of living in your town is what it is. You would have to go to court and prove that you will not be receiving the income from the job you lost 6 months ago. If not, you will be presumed to be an abuser of the bankruptcy system.

Who is hardest hit by this? Honest debtors who are in real trouble because they were laid off or for whatever other reason they cannot afford a lawyer. Do you know why? Because people who file for bankruptcy are generally broke.

Our substitute has a sensible test that passed the Senate overwhelmingly in the 105th Congress. This substitute will also provide true protection for children by limiting the ability of creditors to preserve their claims after discharge when, without the bankruptcy court's protection, they will be able to capture funds that should go for support of the debtor's children. Making child support the first priority, as the bill does, will do nothing for children if credit card debt survives bankruptcy to compete with child support obligations. Because the priority does not survive the bankruptcy, Mom has to go to the State court where there are no priorities and compete with the banks' lawyer, which she does not have to do now.

The substitute will also undo changes to Chapter 13 to ensure that debtors who want to enter into a repayment plan will be able to succeed. Changes to Chapter 13, which incorporates the same calculations and IRS standards from the means test, even if you are below the median income, even if you file for Chapter 13 voluntarily, would guarantee that these plans will fail even more often than the 60 percent failure rate that we have now with completely volunteer plans.

The substitute also ensures that unsecured creditors will not be able to use new legal tricks to jump ahead of other creditors.

It also prevents debtors from using bankruptcy court to evade lawful debts for criminal civil rights violations, including discrimination against members of the Armed Forces, discrimination to deprive a person of a federally protected right, threats to religious institutions or individuals on the basis of religion, or using force or the threats of force to deprive women of their right to see a doctor.

That is right; we are still suggesting that people that violate the Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act should not be able to use the bankruptcy courts to discharge their debts or to use the courts to evade payments and force people who already have been awarded a judgment to chase them through the bankruptcy system at great expense. That is the rule of law, and that is what this bill should contain.

We should not subordinate the rights of women, of the members of our Armed Forces, of houses of worship or people suffering discrimination just because some banks want to tilt the system in their favor.

Allowing the bankruptcy courts to become a safe haven for people who violate our civil rights laws is inexcusable, even in the cause of providing special benefits to the special interests, which is the chief purpose of this bill.

The substitute also provides enhanced protection for employee benefits in Chapter 11 and salaries, and remedies for corporate wrongdoing in Chapter 11. It is the original version of the amendment offered by the gentleman from Utah (Mr. CANNON) and the gentleman from Massachusetts (Mr. DELAHUNT). Their compromise is an important start, and I was pleased to support it a few minutes ago. Our substitute finishes the job.

The substitute provides bankruptcy courts with flexibility to protect small businesses from premature or unnecessary liquidation so that they can reorganize and continue in business and not lay off their employees. It also closes a loophole in current law by preventing debtors from taking cases to courts far away from where the business is actually conducted. It also protects the rights of debtors to uphold contracts in bankruptcy.

The substitute provides for additional bankruptcy judges according to the most recent needs assessment by the Judicial Conference. We have a crisis in the bankruptcy courts that will only be made worse by the litigation explosion this bill will cause, yet the sponsors of this bill have refused to update it to reflect current needs for judges. That will only result in delay and increased costs for everyone who has a stake in the bankruptcy system, debtors, creditors, everyone.

It also strikes pro-IRS amendments that would elevate the rights of taxing authorities over that of other creditors and debtors. Many of you have probably not taken the time to read title VII of the bill. You should show it to a tax lawyer at home, to someone you trust, and ask them what it does. Is there any rational reason to give taxing authorities more rights than other creditors in bankruptcy?

Is there any reason to shortchange businesses and individuals to pay off the government? Since when did this House become a bunch of cheerleaders for the tax collectors?

The substitute will prevent bankruptcy by providing real disclosure of the borrower's actual credit card debt and the cost of borrowing. A similar amendment was adopted by the Senate in the 105th Congress. The current bill provides only an 800 number and deceptive "examples" of repayment costs, rather than the actual costs of credit to inform the debtor. Is it too much to ask that people should be given the information they need on the costs of interest and fees so they can plan their finances responsibly and avoid bankruptcy? The substitute, unlike the bill, will require that.

The substitute also protects against corruption of bankruptcy proceedings by deleting amendments that would allow for abusive motions, that would allow for conflicts of interest on the part of investment bankers, that would allow bankruptcy professionals to delay accountability in court for their wrongdoing.

Bankruptcy reform is an important and laudable goal; but it must be balanced and everyone, debtors and creditors alike, must be held accountable. The current bill would encourage abuse of genuinely distressed families and allow credit card companies to continue their abusive practices.

I urge everyone to support the Democratic substitute so that we can have real reform in the bankruptcy system rather than the sham bill before us that simply reaches into the pockets of low- and middle-income people in situations of distress and in 60 or 70 different ways, takes the money out of their pockets and gives it to the big banks and the credit card companies, which is the entire purpose of the bill before us, without the substitute.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong opposition to the Nadler substitute. The Nadler substitute not only makes significant and controversial revisions to H.R. 975, but deletes crucial provisions from the bill, including various provisions intended to provide important consumer protections.

Here are just a few examples of the more than 30 provisions that the Nadler substitute deletes from H.R. 975:

Section 201, which is intended to protect debtors and to promote alternative dispute resolutions with creditors;

section 202, which penalizes creditors who materially violate the discharge injunction;

section 203, which requires heightened disclosures in connection with, and scrutiny of, reaffirmation agreements. This provision, by the way, was added at the insistence of Senator TORRICELLI during the 106th Congress and was fully endorsed by the Clinton administration; section 311, which attempts to strike a balance between the needs of residential landlords dealing with deadbeat tenants who use bankruptcy to avoid paying rent and giving a financial fresh start to tenants who are willing to cure their rent arrears and to be current on their rental payments. This provision, I should note, was thoroughly negotiated during the 107th Congress by Senator FEINGOLD; and, all of title VII, which strengthens the ability of State and local taxing authorities to collect taxes. At a time when the States and localities are in such bad shape financially, I do not think we would want to give a bigger pass to bankrupts to avoid paying the taxes that they had accrued and owed.

Worse yet, the Nadler substitute guts the various provisions that were hallmarks of last year's conference report. It replaces H.R. 975's needs-based income expense formula with a completely new, but ill conceived, test that could easily lend itself to manipulation.

The Nadler substitute also essentially eliminates the bill's credit counseling provisions and reduces the reach-back period with respect to the cramdown of claims secured by automobiles, a provision that was extensively negotiated with Senate Democrats during the 107th Congress.

Finally, the Nadler substitute essentially reinstates the so-called Schumer amendment, which will effectively penalize protestors who engage in civil disobedience. This is an extraneous and controversial provision that makes debts arising from the violation of the Freedom of Access to Clinic Entrances Act nondischargeable. Inclusion of this provision will likely kill bankruptcy reform, a fact proven just 4 months ago in the last Congress when a vote on the rule that would have allowed consideration of the bankruptcy conference report which contained a similar provision failed on the floor of the House.

Simply put, a vote for the Nadler substitute is a vote to kill bankruptcy reform legislation, and I urge Members to vote against it.

Mr. Chairman, I reserve the balance of my time.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 4 minutes to the distinguished gentlewoman from California (Ms. LINDA T. SANCHEZ), a member of the committee.

Ms. LINDA T. SANCHEZ of California. Mr. Chairman, I thank the gentleman from New York for yielding me this time.

I rise in opposition to H.R. 975 because it is a harsh, one-sided bill. As we all know, our country is in the midst of a very difficult economic period. According to the Department of Labor's figures, the unemployment rate for February 2003 was 5.8 percent. Mr. Chairman, 308,000 people lost jobs in the last month alone.

In addition, we have larger and larger numbers of military personnel being sent overseas in anticipation of a possible war with Iraq. They sacrifice their time and energy and put their lives at risk for the sake of our country. Many also sacrifice their salaries. Often, Reservists who are called up take a substantial cut in pay. Despite efforts to adjust their finances, some families will not be able to cover all of their costs. Those families may need to turn to the bankruptcy system.

Ninety percent of all bankruptcies are triggered by one of the following three events: job loss, unforeseen medical expenses, or divorce. Yet the rules of this Draconian bill in H.R. 975 are so restrictive that people who really need the system are lumped together with people who have possibly abused the system in the past.

Large numbers of groups oppose H.R. 975, including the AFL-CIO and the United Auto Workers. They are concerned that the harsh changes to Chapter 11 bankruptcies will cost jobs by forcing more businesses into liquidation. In addition, these groups are concerned that the bill's consumer bankruptcy provisions will hurt people because it squeezes families so hard in favor of credit card companies.

Opposition also comes from a whole host of groups concerned about women and children, while supporters of this bill argue that it has a series of provisions to assist women and children. If this were the case, then organizations such as the National Organization for Women, the California Women's Law Center, and the Association for Children for Enforcement of Support would all support the bill. In fact, they all oppose the bill.

Mr. Chairman, H.R. 975 does much more harm than it does good for women and children. One of the worst aspects of this bill is the fact that it places women and children in direct competition with more aggressive creditors such as credit card companies.

H.R. 975 is also opposed by groups concerned about minorities, senior citizens, and victims of crimes. The Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, the National Council of Senior Citizens, and the National Center for Victims of Crime are just a few of the organizations that have spoken out against this piece of legislation.

Minorities are often subjected to discrimination in home mortgage lending and in hiring and firing decisions and are more highly targeted by predatory lending. As a result, minorities will more often be forced to consider the bankruptcy system as a means to stabilize their financial circumstances.

The elderly face increased risk of job loss and catastrophic health care costs, again meaning that more of them will have to explore bankruptcy as a possible option.

As for victims of crimes and torts, the National Organization for Victim Assistance has noted, "More exempted creditors with rights to the same finite amount of resources means lower payments to all. Inevitably, for victim creditors, that means either a smaller return on the restitution owed, or a longer period of repayment, or both."

Most troubling is the fact that this bill, which makes such severe change to debtors' rights under the bankruptcy system, makes almost no changes whatsoever to creditors' rights and responsibilities.

This bill fails to address the fact that credit card companies solicit people who are not creditworthy in the first place. We should be instituting measures to ensure that the credit card companies do their homework before extending credit. We should require parental consent before students under the age of 21 can obtain credit cards, unless there is evidence to show that the student is financially solvent. In fact, the gentlewoman from California (Ms. WATERS) sought to offer an amendment with a very similar goal, but her amendment was rejected by the Committee on Rules.

It is time for Congress to recognize that this bill is too flawed to serve the American people. We must look carefully at the long-term consequences and at the current economic conditions, and then craft any bankruptcy reform legislation in a way that is fair to consumers and creditors. I urge a "no" vote on this bill.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, I yield 5 minutes to the gentleman from Utah (Mr. CANNON).

Mr. CANNON. Mr. Chairman, I rise in opposition to the amendment in the nature of a substitute offered by the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER), the distinguished member of the Committee on the Judiciary.

As I emphasized in my statement earlier today during the general debate on this legislation, the Congress has extensively debated and carefully considered bankruptcy reform legislation over the past 6 years. H.R. 975 represents a consensus, which has sustained overwhelming majorities in both bodies.

The substitute has not been subjected to the same kind of careful consideration from the House that characterizes H.R. 975. It injects an uncertainty into the means test which undercuts the major purpose of the bill, which is to promote uniformity and predictability in the bankruptcy process. Rather than strengthening the integrity of the bankruptcy system and restoring personal responsibility, the substitute endangers these goals. In addition, the substitute contains provisions relating to abortion which are extraneous to bankruptcy, which the House has rejected, and which compromise the objectives of true bankruptcy reform.

Mr. Chairman, we have come too far to turn back now. I appreciate the gentleman's engagement on this issue. However, the substitute truly does take us back. Rather than seizing a historic opportunity to confront a growing problem and restore confidence in a failing system, the substitute merely rearranges the flaws that have drawn us to this point.

Mr. Chairman, I urge a "no" vote on the substitute.

Mr. NADLER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself such time as I may consume.

Mr. Chairman, it is true, as the distinguished gentleman said a moment ago, that this bill has been before us for a long time. It is not true that it has gotten a consensus. Well, actually it is true that it has gotten a consensus: a consensus of opposition from just about every professional group, every consumer group, every labor group, every women's group, every minority group, every children's welfare group, every professional bankruptcy group, every trustees' group, every Chapter 13 trustees' group, all the judicial groups. They all oppose the bill.

Now, it is true that it has gotten a majority of this House in the past. That is unfortunate. Hopefully we will reconsider that.

For example, the Committee on the Judiciary has received testimony from many sources, most recently from the Commercial Law League of America, the Nation's oldest creditors' rights organization, to the effect that the business provisions in this bill will destroy businesses, especially small businesses. The substitute would correct this problem by giving distressed companies the needed flexibility to reorganize successfully.

Organized labor has also spoken out against the business provisions of this bill because they recognize that a failed reorganization hits workers the hardest. They are the ones who lose their jobs, they are the ones who lose their benefits, they are the ones who see their pensions evaporate.

If you had a large or small business bankruptcy in your district, you know what happens when a company goes under. Preserving value in a company through successful rehabilitation where it is possible benefits everyone: the employees, the creditors, the communities.

This bill, however, imposes rigid and inflexible deadlines on small businesses, especially those dealing with the time in which a company may propose a plan of reorganization. It also places absolute limits on the time in which a business must decide whether to assume or reject a commercial lease, even if they are current in their rent payments. So you cannot wait for the Christmas season to see how you are doing and whether you can survive or not or whether you should throw in the towel. That limit could prove disastrous in cases involving businesses with hundreds of stores. Does anyone know about the K-Mart bankruptcy or the cinema multiplex bankruptcies? How would arbitrary deadlines have affected those cases?

Other arbitrary rules that would force a conversion of a case from reorganization to liquidation are dangerous to our economy and to American small business.

When this bill first appeared in 1997, everyone was singing "Happy Days Are Here Again." There were few fears that massive bankruptcies in our airline industry, the collapse of much of our high-tech industry, the implosion of such market bellweathers as Enron and WorldCom were just over the horizon.

It would be foolhardy for the Members of this House to ignore what is going on in the real world just because this House has adopted this bill in the past. In the case of these business provisions, it could mean the loss of thousands of jobs, the unnecessary liquidation of valuable and still-potentially viable businesses, and the loss of business and value for trade creditors and communities.

Let us take an example from the financial pages. Recently, The New York Times reported that United Airlines was seeking extension on its April 8 deadline for filing a plan of reorganization. They are seeking extension until October 6.

Why are they seeking this extension? According to the report, "The extra time would give United the chance to gauge the consequences of any war with Iraq on the airline industry."

Is there anyone here, other than one of United's competitors, who does not think that that makes sense? Do we want to insist that United file a claim without getting a handle on what is about to happen? Would the Members of this House prefer to just liquidate the whole thing?

According to The Times again, "The Air Transport Association said in a report that a long conflict could prompt the industry to cut 70,000 more jobs on top of the 100,000 lost since the September 11 attacks in 2001. It said several carriers could be forced into bankruptcy along with United and US Airways which have filed for Chapter XI protection last summer."

In fact, an ATA spokesperson was quoted in the London Financial Times just this morning as stating that the war could add another $4 billion to airline losses on top of the $5.7 billion forecast and cut a further 2,200 flights daily. The same spokesperson warned that further deterioration in the industry could make the prospect of "forced nationalization of the industry not unrealistic."

In court papers, United requested an extension of time until October "to avoid premature formulation of a Chapter 11 plan, and to ensure that the formulated plan takes into account the interests of the company, its employees, and its creditors."

Should not the law allow courts to review the facts and decide whether or not such flexibility is, as the Bankruptcy Code has long required, "in the best interests of the creditors and the estate"?

This problem is not confined to United. This morning the Financial Times reported that Standard and Poors has placed 11 other airlines on the credit watch. As a result of the 1991 Gulf War, three major airlines were forced into bankruptcy. Our job is to make the system work better, not to wreck it.

Chapter 11 is a model that other countries, most recently Estonia, are trying to emulate. They look to our system of rehabilitating going concern value where possible as preferable to the emphasis on liquidation and other systems.

Just as the rest of the world is realizing that our system encourages risk-taking, entrepreneurship, and promotes the rehabilitation of distressed businesses, this bill takes our system back in the other direction to force liquidation instead of permitting the flexibility that encourages reorganization and the survival of these businesses.

The substitute that I am offering solves that problem and keeps the current system for these businesses. Perhaps this House could pause long enough to listen to the sound of the market forces before acting to force thousands more companies into liquidation and destroy tens of thousands of jobs. Keep the flexibility in the current system by passing this substitute.

Mr. Chairman, in summary, the alleged reason for this bill, that lots of debtors are taking advantage of the credit card companies and are costing an average consumer $400 a year in higher interest, is sheer nonsense. The reason there are more bankruptcies, studies have shown, is because there is so much credit and too easy credit being given to people who are already head over heels in debt, and people are having too much debt in relation to their income.

If we want to cut down the number of bankruptcies, we should do something about irresponsible extension of credit to people already head over heels in debt. The bill does not do that.

The evidence is that people are more reluctant now to file bankruptcy than they were years ago. The bill ignores that. The bill would force many people into Chapter 13 when they are better served in Chapter 7.

Recently, Professor Staten, whose work for the credit industry provided much of the empirical fodder for this legislation, observed that this legislation would move only about 5 percent of Chapter 7 cases into Chapter 13, and that the legislation would have no effect on the number of bankruptcies. Similarly, according to James Blaine, CEO of the North Carolina State Credit Union, "Charge-offs are well under control at 46/100 of a percent of total loans," less than a half of 1 percent. In other words, 99.5 percent of credit union loans are repaid as promised, and 41.1 percent of charge-offs are related to bankruptcy. Or said another way, just .19 percent, less than 2/10ths of 1 percent, of total credit union loans result in a bankruptcy loss. So taking the high estimate of a 15 percent rate of abuse, the calculation reveals that total losses on loan portfolios are less than 3/100ths of 1 percent.

That should not lead to a draconian bill such as this, a bill that, in addition, cracks down on small businesses and will force many of them into liquidation as opposed to being reorganized.

The substitute keeps some flexibility in the system, enables human judgment to see, on the part of bankruptcy judges, to determine when there is an abuse of the system and a bankruptcy filing must be disallowed and when it should go forward.

Perhaps the worst thing about this bill is the adoption of the IRS rigid guidelines, the adoption of the rigid guidelines that allow no room for any discretion. That is not the way we should write legislation.

Finally, let me simply say that notwithstanding the claims by the consumer credit industry to the contrary, consumer lending is the most profitable enterprise. According to Bloomberg News, CitiGroup, Inc., said "Fourth quarter profit fell 37 percent because of higher loan costs, and the costs of settling claims at the world's biggest financial services company misled customers with biased stock research." But the biggest profit center was the credit cards.

Finally, anyone who thinks that credit card companies, by being able to take more money, to squeeze more money from middle- and low-income people who, because of a job loss or a medical emergency, are in extreme situation and bankruptcy, anyone who thinks they are going to lower the interest rates and save consumers $400 ignores the history of the last 20 years, and ought to purchase the Brooklyn Bridge from people who do not own it.

Mr. Chairman, I yield back the balance of my time.

Mr. SENSENBRENNER. Mr. Chairman, I yield myself the balance of my time.

Mr. Chairman, I appreciate the summary of the summary from the gentleman from New York (Mr. NADLER). I do not think anybody who supports this bill is in the mood to buy the Brooklyn Bridge. The city of New York has that as a tremendous asset and ought to keep it that way.

Seriously, if we look at the list of groups that support this legislation, practically every State retailer federation is in support of changing the bankruptcy laws. These are not banks, these are not credit card companies, these are the people who represent the mom-and-pop stores on the Main Streets in the cities and towns and villages of the United States of America. They are the ones that have to absorb a lot of the debt that is written off in bankruptcy. That means fewer jobs, it means higher prices, and it means a burden on the people who pay their bills as they have agreed to pay their bills.

What this bill does very simply is that for someone who is genuinely down and out and has no chance whatsoever of repaying their debt, it does not change the law at all. They are allowed to go through a Chapter 7 liquidation, get a discharge, and start out afresh. They do get some credit counseling that they do not have under the existing law, and this is counseling that would advise them of the consequences of bankruptcy, as well as advice on how to avoid getting into this pickle again. That credit counseling would go down if the bill goes down.

However, where there is a change in the law for personal bankruptcies are for the people who have the potential of repaying at least some of their debt during the next 5 years. I do not see anything wrong with that. If they can repay some of their debt during the next 5 years, that is their obligation. Why should they pass that debt on to people who pay 100 percent of their bills all the time?

So this is what the issue is. The substitute should be defeated, the bill should pass, and we should provide the essential reforms that have been negotiated out for the last 6 years on this issue.

I urge defeat of the substitute amendment.

Mr. CONYERS. Mr. Chairman, I rise in strong support of the Democratic substitute. This amendment retains the vast majority of the provisions in the underlying bill, while responding to the most egregious and one-sided provisions in the legislation. There are a number of significant differences between our substitute and the underlying bill:

1. Means Test: First and foremost, we fix the rigid one-size-fits-all means test used to determine an individual's eligibility for bankruptcy proceedings. Rather than relying on the debtor's actual cost of living, the bill relies upon IRS collection standards which lay out no specific standards for the deduction of living expenses.

By contrast, the Democratic substitute would modify the means test and require the court to take into account the debtor's actual income and expenses and income. This is based on the same language that passed the Senate overwhelmingly in the 105th Congress.

2. Alimony and Child Support: As the bill presently stands, it is a disaster for single mothers and their children and it will have a particularly harsh impact on the payment of alimony and child support. The basic problem arises from the fact that bankruptcy and insolvency are by definition a zero-sum game. By design, the bill will increase the amount of funds being paid to unsecured creditors, and it therefore should come as no surprise that such payments will often come at the expense of other, less-aggressive creditors, such as women and children owed alimony and child support. This problem is by no means insignificant given that an estimated 300,000 bankruptcy cases per year involve child support and alimony orders.

The Democratic substitute mitigates this problem by eliminating provisions in the bill concerning luxury good purchases, cash advances, and credit card debt used to pay taxes which place credit card companies on equal footing with alimony and child support payments.

3. Small Business: The Republican bill also imposes a whole host of arbitrary deadlines in small business cases designed to speed up the bankruptcy process. The effect of these changes would be to make it much harder for small businesses to reorganize and stay afloat. That is the last thing our economy needs.

These provisions have drawn the strong opposition of organized labor. For example, the AFL-CIO has earned that the small business provisions will "threaten jobs by placing substantial procedural and substantive barriers in the way of small businesses' access to the protections of Chapter 11 . . . threaten[ing] their overall ability to successfully reorganize."

The substitute allows for the extension of the arbitrary deadlines where it can be shown that the reason for the delay is due to circumstances beyond the control of the small business. Thus, if the reason a deadline cannot be met is because a regulatory process—such as a hearing on an environmental claim—must take place before a plan can be developed, we would give the court discretion to waive the deadline.

4. Credit Card Abuse:

Perhaps the bill's most glaring omission is its failure to address the problem of abusive lending practices. At the same time the legislation responds to every conceivable debtor excess—whether real or imagined—it gives a pass to the transgressions of the credit industry. This despite the fact that we now have 3.5 billion credit card solicitations per year and $1.3 trillion in consumer debt now outstanding.

Our substitute cracks down on the very worst of these abuses, such as soliciting minors who have little ability to pay their debts and failing to disclose clearly on their account statements the total amount and total time it would take to pay off balances if only the minimum amount due was paid each month.

5. Protecting Employee Wages and Benefits in Bankruptcy: The Democratic substitute makes several significant changes to protect employee wages and other benefits in bankruptcy. First, it increases the dollar amount of employee wages and other benefits to $13,500 from $4,650 to take full account of inflation over the last 30 years. Second, it increases the period of time a court may avoid fraudulent transfers to corporate insiders from 1 to 4 years. Given the complexity of these transfers, this is needed to help us protect against future Enron situations.

The Democratic substitute also requires that before business assets are sold in bankruptcy, we learn about the potential adverse impact on employees and retirees health care and pension benefits. All too often corporate bankruptcies become an excuse to void promises of pension and health care benefits, and the Democratic substitute responds to that problem.

6. Use of Bankruptcy to Evade Lawful Debts for Civil Rights Violations: Finally, the Democratic substitute prevents debtors from using the bankruptcy court to evade lawful debts for civil rights violations, including discrimination against members of the Armed Forces, discrimination to deprive a person of a federally protected right, threats to religious institutions, or individuals on the basis of religion, or using force or threats to deprive a woman of a right to see a doctor.

Of particular note is the fact that this year's bill drops a provision from the conference report dealing with a very serious problem facing woman as a result of the Bankruptcy Code—the fear that violent and reckless individuals will be able to terrorize and blockade abortion clinics and eliminate their liability from that violence through the bankruptcy process. The Democratic substitute closes that loophole.

For those of the Members who want to support real and balanced bankruptcy reform—without unnecessarily piling on the middle class, single mothers and their children, harming employees, and without giving the credit card industry a complete pass—I urge a "yes" vote on the Democratic substitute.
