

The legislative clerk proceeded to call the roll.

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the order for the quorum call be rescinded.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

MORNING BUSINESS

Mr. UDALL of Colorado. Madam President, I ask unanimous consent that the Senate proceed to a period of morning business, with Senators permitted to speak for up to 10 minutes each.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Without objection, it is so ordered.

COMMENDING THOMAS O. SUGAR

Mr. BAYH. Mr. President, I rise today to honor Mr. Thomas O. Sugar, who has served as one of my most valued and trusted aides in the U.S. Senate and in the Indiana Governor's office. I am proud to have this opportunity to recognize Tom for the remarkable service he has rendered on behalf of the people of Indiana.

Tom is a native of Kokomo, IN, an auto town in the heart of our proud manufacturing State. Tom never forgot where he came from, and he has been a faithful and passionate emissary of the hard-working, middle-class Hoosiers who inspired him to enter public service in the first place.

Tom's career in government and politics began when he served as a campaign field organizer for Jim Jontz, who represented Indiana's fifth Congressional District. Throughout his 7 years of service for Congressman Jontz, Tom held a variety of positions, culminating in his ascension to chief of staff in 1991.

I was fortunate to have Tom join my staff as director of communication and planning during my second term as Indiana Governor. Among his many achievements, Tom orchestrated a successful conference on promoting responsible fatherhood that brought together leaders of the most successful fatherhood programs in the country. He also helped plan the Governor's adoption initiative, heralding needed reforms in Indiana's adoption system.

Tom served as my campaign manager for my first Senate race in 1998 and then took over as my chief of staff, a position he has held for over a decade. Tom has carried out this demanding role with unceasing skill, diplomacy, and determination. His portfolio has been considerable. Tom has been a top adviser on a range of significant policy issues, helping to improve our Nation's educational system, supporting working families, strengthening national security, and expanding volunteer opportunities for Americans to serve their country.

In addition to playing a crucial role on policy issues, Tom has served as a leader and a mentor to members of my staff in both my Indiana and Washington offices. Tom had a knack for discovering new talent, and he helped hone the professional development of countless public servants.

Most importantly, Tom is a devoted father to his sons, Jackson and Carter, and a loving husband to his wife Nancy. Tom cares about the people he works with and treats his colleagues like extended family. Tom was always ready with a kind word during times of plenty and an understanding ear during periods of personal difficulty and loss.

This week, Tom leaves my office to pursue a new opportunity helping lower income students finish their college and postsecondary education. The newly formed National Consortium for College Completion is extraordinarily lucky to have Tom as a part of their organization. While I will deeply miss having Tom on my Senate staff, I look forward to hearing about the work he will do on behalf of students in need across our country.

Tom is a trusted aide, a dear friend, and a true-blue Hoosier whose contributions to the State of Indiana are immeasurable.

Mr. President, I am pleased to recognize Tom's extraordinary contributions to this body, and I wish him the best of luck in his future pursuits.

REMEMBERING ERNEST P. KLINE

• Mr. CASEY. Madam President, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania recently lost a distinguished former lieutenant governor and a life-long Pittsburgh sports fan, Ernest P. Kline. Ernie passed away of congestive heart failure after a life that tells the story of a Pennsylvanian with the determination to reach his goals, a love of public service, and a devoted father and grandfather. Today I honor his memory.

Ernest P. Kline was lieutenant governor of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania from 1971 to 1979. During his 8 years of public service, he worked to advance the causes of women and older citizens. After his career in public service, Ernie was president of Kline Associates in Palmyra, PA. His story is a Pennsylvania story of hard work and deep abiding commitment to help people.

Ernie and his two brothers were raised by a single mother in Webster, just outside of Pittsburgh. It was the love and support of his extended Italian-American family, his teachers, and his devout Catholic faith that would shape him into the statesman he came to be. Ernie was the starting quarterback of his Rostraver high school football team. He attended Duquesne University but had to drop out early due to financial constraints. He became a radio-news broadcaster. While working with the radio station in Charleroi, he met his beloved wife Josephine. They would have celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary June 25th.

When covering a Beaver Falls city council meeting for WBVP-AM, Ernie realized that he wanted to enter public service. He went home, told his family, and was elected to the city council of Beaver Falls, PA, in 1955. Nine years later, Ernie was elected to the senate of Pennsylvania, later becoming the youngest Democratic floor leader ever. After 7 years in the State senate, he was elected lieutenant governor of the Commonwealth.

His life of public service continued after he left elected office through volunteering with different nonprofit organizations such as the Ronald McDonald House and the United Way. He continued supporting Democratic politics his entire life. Ernie also loved to fish and root for the Pittsburgh Steelers.

He and Josephine raised 7 children and they were blessed with 12 grandchildren. Ernie was a loving father and devoted grandfather who instilled in his family a love of Pennsylvania and the value of a life in public service. More importantly, he was a dad who made sure the kids did all of their homework and all of their chores.

Ernie Kline was a person of integrity and compassion. He never forgot where he came from and the values that guided his life. I extend my sincere condolences to Josephine and the Kline family for their loss. His life story will continue to inspire his family and many others to devote their lives to public service and to the poor and the powerless. •

JUDGE COLLEEN KOLLAR-KOTELLY

• Mrs. FEINSTEIN. Madam President, shortly before the recess, U.S. District Judge Colleen Kollar-Kotelly completed her service as presiding judge of the Foreign Intelligence Surveillance Court. By law, after serving for a maximum of 7 years, judges of the FISA Court, who are designated from the U.S. districts courts by the Chief Justice of the United States to serve on the FISA Court in addition to their regular judicial responsibilities, are not eligible for redesignation.

Now that Judge Kollar-Kotelly has completed her distinguished service on the FISA Court, it is fitting to take note of the admirable service she has rendered as the presiding judge of an institution that is central to our Nation's commitment to conduct foreign intelligence within the rule of law.

Judge Kollar-Kotelly was appointed in 1984 to serve as an associate judge of the Superior Court of the District of Columbia. In 1997, she was appointed by President Clinton to serve on the U.S. District Court for the District of Columbia. In 2002, Chief Justice William H. Rehnquist designated her to be presiding judge of the FISA Court. Her ability to earn the trust of two Presidents and a Chief Justice is noteworthy in itself.
