

Arkansas Blues and Heritage Festival, a beloved, time-honored tradition in my hometown of Helena, AR.

The Arkansas Blues and Heritage Festival, formerly known as the King Biscuit Blues Festival, is one of the Nation's foremost showcases of blues music. Held for 3 days annually in October, tens of thousands of blues enthusiasts converge on historic downtown Helena. This year's festival features legendary blues musician B.B. King, along with nearly 50 other blues performances. The event will be held October 7 to 9, with projected attendance figures of nearly 80,000.

I have often joined my fellow Helena residents to celebrate and enjoy this annual tradition, and I am proud of the community's efforts to keep alive the history and heritage of blues music.

Founded in 1986, the first festival was a 1-day event, with a small gathering of local residents and a flatbed truck as a stage. Since then, the festival has grown to a 3-day event, with three stages and several activities, such as the Kenneth Freemyer 5K Run, the Blues in Schools program, and the Tour da' Delta bicycle tour.

I congratulate the organizers and leadership of the Arkansas Blues and Heritage Festival, along with all my fellow Helena residents. I wish them all the best as they celebrate 25 years of the Arkansas Blues and Heritage Festival.●

RECOGNIZING DIRK LEACH RUSTIC ARTS

● Ms. SNOWE. Mr. President, as lobster bakes and vacations along the picturesque northeastern coast fade with the summer months, today I honor a craftsman and small business owner in my home State of Maine who keeps the feeling of the season alive by marrying function, comfort, beauty, tradition, and love of the outdoors—quintessentially Maine characteristics—with the iconic Adirondack chair.

Located along the Saco River in the town of Buxton, Dirk Leach Rustic Arts is a one-of-a-kind business devoted to one man's dream of creating the perfect Adirondack chair. The company's owner, Dirk Leach, maintains the tradition of "rustic artistry" by walking through Maine's woodlands in late fall and winter to gather materials for one of his Shaker creations. An artist and an innovator, Mr. Leach describes himself as "obsessed with the Adirondack chair form," and draws inspiration from the simple, functional forms of Shaker design. Mr. Leach's sketches help him translate his varying ideas into unique prototypes and, finally, innovative seating pieces with wide seat planks, thick arm rests, and clean lines.

Since the mid 1990s, Dirk Leach has fashioned Adirondack chairs and settees from a variety of trees native to Maine, such as red oak, white ash, yellow birch, and sugar maple. Perhaps most creatively, Mr. Leach transforms pin cherry and gray birch into hand-hewn candlesticks and a number of accessories. Mr. Leach lovingly builds, paints, signs, and dates his exceptional and unique creations, which are all beautifully handcrafted and guaranteed for life. While his most popular designs include the traditional Weekender chairs to the more eclectic Nor'easter chairs, Mr. Leach has pledged to design 100 variations of the outdoor classic by alternating back height, seat angles, hardware, and color. Moreover, chairs can be built to withstand even the coldest of Maine's winters, as they are constructed of weather tight white oak and finished in the finest exterior house paint on the market.

And although Mainers have come to anticipate traditional white Adirondack chairs assembled along campfires and lazily arranged in the backyard, Dirk Leach is renowned for applying layers of paint in colors inspired by nature itself, from colors such as iris, prairie grass, and warm earth, to vivid shades of crocus, coral, and pistachio.

Touted as the "Best Maine Adirondack Chair" by Down East Magazine in July 2010, Dirk Leach Rustic Arts has been working to keep up with demand since the Maine publication hit newsstands. And when he wasn't drawing up his newest designs, Mr. Leach has spent time traveling to Wisconsin, New York, and throughout Maine—from July to September—demonstrating his rustic woodworking craftsmanship and techniques.

While small businesses are most notably touted as drivers of our national economy, and rightly so, they can sometimes be overlooked for their often more subtle contributions to design, quality, and innovative vision. Whether his customers utilize these chairs to gaze out at the ocean or sit around a campfire, Dirk Leach's designs are functional works of art meant to last for generations. I commend Dirk Leach on the passion he lends to his craft, and I wish him nothing but success in the years to come.●
