

The academic status jazz enjoys today finds much of its foundation in the work of Leon and his fellow music educators, who fought to bring jazz into the university music curriculum.

Leon was a dedicated family man, educator and public servant. He is survived by his daughter and three grandchildren.

Madam Speaker, it is my privilege to join his family and fellow musicians, educators and students in honoring the life of Leon Breeden. His mission to pass on the art of jazz to future generations is an example that will continue to benefit the arts and education for years to come. I am honored to have represented him in the U.S. House of Representatives.

REGARDING WORLD DAY OF REMEMBRANCE FOR ROAD TRAFFIC VICTIMS

HON. CHRIS VAN HOLLEN

OF MARYLAND

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, December 1, 2010

Mr. VAN HOLLEN. Madam Speaker, I rise in recognition of the UN Day of Remembrance for Road Traffic Victims.

World Remembrance Day was established to honor the memory of those who have been injured or killed in traffic accidents around the world. The day was set aside as a sign of the world's commitment to preventing road traffic deaths, to educating drivers and pedestrians about the hazards of road travel and to improving the safety of our roads.

Road crashes are the leading cause of death globally for people between the ages of 5 and 29 years old. According to the 2009 Global Status Report on Road Safety, nearly 1,300,000 people globally die in road crashes each year. Unless action is taken, it is predicted that road traffic injuries could double by 2030, killing an estimated 2,400,000 people per year.

As an original sponsor of H. Res. 1696, a resolution supporting the goals and ideals of the UN's "Decade of Action for Road Safety", I encourage my colleagues to join me in support of the ideals of road safety and in honoring the memory of those who have been injured or killed in traffic crashes around the world.

IN HONOR OF THE LEWISVILLE FEED MILL

HON. MICHAEL C. BURGESS

OF TEXAS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Wednesday, December 1, 2010

Mr. BURGESS. Madam Speaker, I rise today in honor of the Lewisville Feed Mill in Lewisville, Texas. After a 124 year history as a cornerstone of the economic community, the mill will close its doors at the end of October.

The Lewisville Feed Mill has operated continuously since opening for business in 1886 and has remained a family related business ever since. Along with other agriculture related businesses such as a grist mill and a cotton gin, the mill helped spur the economic growth of early Lewisville.

As Lewisville's landscape shifted from an agricultural center to a suburban business area, the Lewisville Feed Mill adapted. The business was sustained by carrying lawn care products and pet supplies, along with small scale farming gear.

The mill's current owner is James Polser, who has managed to hang onto part of Lewisville's small-town atmosphere and recreate it for others to see. The building is filled with memorabilia from past generations, much of it on public display. Mr. Polser is known for welcoming visitors with old-town friendliness.

The Lewisville Feed Mill has long served as a gathering spot. The seats overlooking Main Street have been occupied by local residents, businessmen and civic leaders who stopped by for coffee and fellowship. It has evolved to a multi-generational destination, as visitors who first came to the mill in their youth, now bring their children and grandchildren.

During these times of constant rush and change, James Polser is to be commended for keeping us connected to a traditional way of life. I am grateful to have had the Lewisville Feed Mill in the 26th District of Texas.

CALLING FOR DIGNITY, COMFORT, AND SUPPORT FOR HOLOCAUST SURVIVORS

SPEECH OF

HON. LAURA RICHARDSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, November 30, 2010

Ms. RICHARDSON. Mr. Speaker, I rise today in support of H. Con. Res. 323, which supports efforts in ensuring that all Holocaust survivors in the United States are able to live in comfort and dignity. I am proud to co-sponsor H. Con. Res. 323 and I thank my colleague, Congresswoman DEBBIE WASSERMAN SCHULTZ for introducing this resolution.

The Nazis systematically exterminated over six million Jewish people and killed between 11 and 17 million people overall. They established concentration camps, including the infamous Auschwitz-Birkenau, Treblinka, Belzec, and Sobibor where they worked people to death and systematically exterminated them.

There are approximately 127,000 Holocaust survivors currently living in the United States. These survivors live everyday with the scars from this tragedy. They were forced to live in concentration, labor, or death camps where they were tortured by Nazi soldiers. Those individuals "lucky enough" to escape the labor camps, were forced to flee their countries leaving their families, homes, and possessions behind.

All of the Holocaust survivors are at least 65 years old with the majority being over 75. These individuals are five times more likely to be living in poverty than other Americans their age. More than two-thirds live alone.

Non-profit organizations provide many essential services to Holocaust survivors. These organizations often are underappreciated for all of the great work that they do. I am pleased that this resolution also recognizes the efforts of these organizations.

Mr. Speaker, I urge my colleagues to join me in supporting H. Con. Res. 323. We must work to ensure that all Holocaust survivors are able to live out their remaining years in comfort and dignity.
