

It is not hard to see the span of influence Paul has had on his students, who are now scattered across the globe. He has nearly 2,000 Facebook friends, mainly made up of past and current students. A quick Internet search of his name will turn up blog post after blog post of former students stating that Paul—or “Mr. Parets”—“changed my life,” “made a difference,” and that A.I. will “never be the same” without him. I think all of us who have experienced the thrills of any of the A.I. duPont bands echo these sentiments. As they say at A.I., “You cannot hide that Tiger Pride,” and I know I share that feeling of pride every time I turn on my TV and see the A.I. duPont Tigers marching down the streets of Pasadena, London or New York. Up and down Delaware, we certainly can’t hide our overwhelming pride for Paul Parets, nor will we be able to hide our heartbreak when he is not on the director’s podium this fall.

Upon Paul’s retirement, he will leave behind a legacy that is a testament to the importance of music in public education and the pure joy—and thrill—of music. His lessons inside and outside of the classroom will remain with his students, our community, and with future generations of A.I. duPont band members. I thank him for his contribution to music education and for his commitment to public service through years as an elected member to the Delaware City Council. I also thank him for the pride he has brought to the First State and for the generations of musicians he has nurtured—a gift that will give time and time again. I wish him, his children, Tim and Meredith, and two grandchildren, Aaron and Abigail, and the rest of his family only the very best in all that lies ahead for each of them. As we say in the Navy, “Bravo Zulu!” to Paul Parets. You are one of a kind, and we are blessed to have known you all of these years.●
