

Jen Tyll, who own and operate Pat's Pizza Old Port located in Portland, ME.

Chris and Jen Tyll are graduates of the U.S. Naval Academy. Chris is a former Navy SEAL and platoon leader, and served four tours in Iraq. Chris and Jen have 23 years of military experience between them and have completed six deployments in support of Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom.

Chris first visited Maine at the age of 18 while visiting with his Naval Academy roommate. He fell in love with the State and believed Maine would be a great place to raise a family. After moving around the country and living in eight States, the Tylls decided to establish roots in Maine. As Chris transitioned out of the military, he knew he wanted to own a business. Subsequently, he opened a Pat's Pizza in the heart of Portland's Historic Old Port in 2009.

The original Pat's Pizza, located in Orono, is an undeniable favorite of University of Maine students. It has been said that an education at the University of Maine at Orono is not complete without sampling a pizza from Pat's. Pat's Pizza is known for its sauce, developed by the founder, which gives its pizza a distinct home-grown flavor. The dough is made fresh daily, delivering customers the same authentic taste in every location. Pat's Pizza Old Port offers the same great Pat's taste and all of the amenities Mainers and their families have come to enjoy.

While Pat's Pizza Old Port provides Chris the opportunity to be a successful business owner, he has not forgotten his former comrades and finds time to reach out to veterans. Chris understands the challenges that await current veterans as they transition from the military into civilian life. He is the chairman of the new Portland Veterans Network, a Portland Regional Chamber of Commerce program. The network offers free career assistance to veterans of Operation Iraqi Freedom and Operation Enduring Freedom, including mentoring, wellness services, resume writing and interview skills training, and chamber membership. At its heart, the program consists of pairing 50 Portland-area veterans with business leaders who will act as mentors, introducing the veterans at networking events and guiding them in their job search.

I applaud Chris and Jen Tyll for demonstrating the leadership and can-do attitude that are truly a reflection of the talent and entrepreneurial spirit found in my home State of Maine. As we pay tribute to our servicemembers on Veterans Day, I offer my gratitude and congratulations to our Nation's veteran-owned small businesses and extend my best wishes to Chris, Jen, and Pat's Pizza Old Port for their continued growth and success.●
