

strategy can help guide this technology to meet goals of sustainability, equity, and economic growth.

Likewise, had I been present for the vote on H. Res. 835, a resolution expressing support for a national policy for technology to promote consumer access to financial tools and online commerce (Roll Call Number 497), I would have voted "aye." With nearly a third of the U.S. population underbanked or unbanked, it is critical that we focus emerging technology development to provide additional support, financial tools, and security to consumers.

RECOGNIZING NEW LENOX'S PROUD AMERICAN DAYS MILITARY TRIBUTE

HON. BILL FOSTER

OF ILLINOIS

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 13, 2016

Mr. FOSTER. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to highlight New Lenox's annual military tribute during Proud American Days. Since 1984, the New Lenox Chamber of Commerce has been steadfastly dedicated to the commitments and sacrifices of our nation's service members. What started out as a small gathering is now one of the largest programs attended in the area.

New Lenox's motto reads, "The Home of Proud Americans" and they certainly live up to that slogan. On Sunday, July 31, 2016, more than two hundred people, including veterans, paid homage to those who have sacrificed so much to protect our great nation. These brave Americans endured so much so that we can enjoy the freedoms we have today and for that, we owe them our eternal gratitude.

During the tribute this year, the following veterans were recognized:

Machinist's Mate Second Class Robert Beazley, United States Navy

Master Sergeant Edward Dima, United States Air Force

Gunner's Mate Third Class Leonard Kapocius, United States Navy

Mr. Speaker, I am proud to submit these names for all to see, and I ask my colleagues to join me in honoring all of our nation's veterans.

TRIBUTE TO LYNETTA BLEEKER

HON. DAVID YOUNG

OF IOWA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 13, 2016

Mr. YOUNG of Iowa. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to recognize and congratulate Lynetta Bleeker, a middle school teacher at Parkview Middle School in Ankeny, Iowa. On Thursday, September 8, 2016, Lynetta was a recipient of The Presidential Awards for Excellence in Mathematics and Science Teaching at a ceremony in Washington, D.C.

The Presidential Awards for Excellence in Mathematics and Science Teaching (PAEMST) are the highest honors bestowed upon K–12 mathematics and science teachers by the federal government. Established by Congress in 1983, the PAEMST program has been a benchmark that all teachers strive to achieve. Ms. Bleeker's dedication to her students and steadfastness in her commitment to excellence has not gone unnoticed. I am honored to recognize her as one of this year's recipients.

Mr. Speaker, I applaud and congratulate Lynetta Bleeker for receiving this award and for providing the youth in Iowa's 3rd Congressional District the education that they will need to be successful in the future. I am proud to represent her, her fellow teachers and students in the United States Congress. I know that my colleagues in the United States House of Representatives will join me in congratulating Lynetta Bleeker and wishing her well and continued success in the future.

TRIBUTE TO LINDA RAWL SHEALY

HON. JOE WILSON

OF SOUTH CAROLINA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 13, 2016

Mr. WILSON of South Carolina. Mr. Speaker, on Saturday, September 10, 2016, a memorial service was conducted for Linda Rawl Shealy by Dr. Mark S. Bredholt. Eulogies were provided by former Columbia television news anchor Cheryl Irwin and myself I was honored to provide the following tribute:

Family and friends of Linda Rawl Shealy, this is a loving service honoring a dear lady, but, additionally, it is fitting for me to participate as this is also a reunion of former staff members of my predecessor, the late Congressman Floyd Spence, who was a Patriot, Statesman and Southern Gentleman.

Congressman Spence was a good judge of character and integrity, selecting talented young people for his staff. Especially extraordinary was Chief of Staff Craig Metz, along with District Director Sammy Hendrix. Sammy was perceptive enough to recommend his fellow Lexington High School classmate, Linda Rawl Shealy, to the Congressman.

In 1984, Congressman Spence was the Ranking Member of the House Ethics Committee and Linda Shealy was selected to be a Staff Assistant for the Committee—a tough job for a Committee which is Solomonically as issues were presented equivalent to counting the number of angels who danced on a pin.

She served with young attorneys Mark Elam and John Hoefler, who were counsels to the committee, fresh out of law school, and today are among the most highly respected attorneys of Charleston and Columbia, with Mark as Director of State and Local Relations for Boeing and John as a Partner in the law firm of Willoughby and Hoefler.

In 1995, Linda shifted to become Special Assistant to Floyd Spence as he was elected Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, where she faithfully served dependably and loyally until his death on August 16, 2016.

I was grateful that Linda led transition efforts for the Second Congressional District Office upon my election on December 18, 2001, and, in June 2002, she was selected as the second staff member of the House Office of Emergency Planning. This important office was established following the September 11th attacks by Islamic Terrorists.

Current Director Joe Lowry praised Linda as the "First Lady of the Emergency Planning Office," through her retirement in January 2014, as the longest serving employee of the Office.

Linda's achievements reflected well on her heritage with the Rawl Family being among the earliest German-Swiss families to settle here in the Saxe Gotha Region.

Welcoming attendees were other original families of Shealy, Addy, Meetze, and Price, who established a positive community where they are a tiny percentage of Lexington County, one of America's fastest growing, with transplants from the Northeast and Midwest along with worldwide residents. It was also fitting to be at the Caughman-Harman Funeral Home, established by original families Virl and Steve Caughman with Daisy Wilson and Harry Harman.

As we reflect on the dedicated life of Linda Rawl Shealy, it can clearly be established that she made a positive difference for a better community and nation.

HONORING DR. OLLYE SHIRLEY

HON. BENNIE G. THOMPSON

OF MISSISSIPPI

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 13, 2016

Mr. THOMPSON of Mississippi. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor the life and legacy of Dr. Olye Shirley who has touched the lives of many in Mississippi. She recently passed away on September 10, 2016.

Dr. Olye Shirley grew up the big sister to two brothers in the home of two teachers in Mound Bayou, MS. Ms. Olye Brown's parents taught at a one-room school and their home was situated on land that her family still owns. When Olye Brown graduated from high school, she went on to attend Tougaloo College. Fond Tougaloo memories conjure images of singing under the trees and playing baseball.

Olye also remembers Tougaloo as a college "small enough to make really good close friends—kind of like a family. If somebody needed something, alumni or other students would pitch in." While lettering in basketball and being an all-conference guard, Olye Brown maintained her status on the Dean's list.

Miss Brown met and was courted by her college sweetheart Aaron Shirley '55 at Tougaloo College.

This self-motivated honor student graduated from Tougaloo in 1953 with a Bachelor of Arts in English and gained employment at Burglund High School in McComb, MS. When her husband graduated from Tougaloo in 1955, the family moved to Nashville for his medical education at Meharry Medical College. Over those four years, Olye worked as a secretary for Tennessee State University and earned extra money typing theses for graduate students. She also worked for Davidson County as a welfare worker for their last two Nashville years.

Because the Civil Rights Movement did not receive much or very accurate coverage, several branches of the Mississippi Freedom Democratic Party published their own newsletters. Dr. Aaron Shirley graduated from Meharry, the family moved back to Mississippi, and Olye shared with Dilla E. Irwin the editorship of the Vicksburg branch's newsletter, the Citizen's Appeal.

Dr. Olye Shirley later worked for the Children's Television Workshop; then served on the JPS school board from 1978–1993, the last four years as president.

In her years of education, Dr. Shirley has served the children of Mississippi admirably. She worked with PBS' CTW for almost 25 years, helping determine the direction of educational television by bringing programs such as "Sesame Street," "Electric Company" and "Ghostwriters." In her last position in the CTW, Dr. Shirley served as regional director, training teachers how to use these shows as educational tools.

Dr. Olye Brown Shirley's recent recognitions include Link of the Decade for Services to Youth from the Jackson Chapter of The Links. In addition, the story of her achievements is told on the 2010 documentary 'In Spite of it All' by Wilma Mosley Clopton. Dr. Olye Brown Shirley is also a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, Inc., initiated through Tougaloo's Gamma Psi Chapter.

Doctors Aaron and Olye Brown Shirley's marriage bore four children: Kevin, Terrence, Christal S. Porter, and Erin Shirley Orey and her five much loved grandchildren. Mr. Speaker, I ask my colleagues to join me in celebrating the life and legacy of Dr. Olye Shirley.

HONORING JUSTIN-SIENA HIGH SCHOOL

HON. MIKE THOMPSON

OF CALIFORNIA

IN THE HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Tuesday, September 13, 2016

Mr. THOMPSON of California. Mr. Speaker, I rise today to honor Justin-Siena High School upon the 50th Anniversary of the school's founding. While we honor five decades of aca-dem achievement, we also celebrate the future of Justin-Siena High School in keeping with the school's motto Sempre Avanti, or "Always Forward."

The De La Salle Christian Brothers and the Dominican Sisters of San Rafael founded Justin-Siena in 1966 to educate and inspire young people to live the Lasallian values of scholarship, bravery, and faith. The school connects its students and our community to the Lasallian network of schools, which spans 82 countries around the world.

Located in Napa, California the school serves students from across the North Bay and from 15 countries around the world and maintains a commitment to academic excellence. Its 12:1 student-instructor ratio fosters close academic relationships, and an impressive 99 percent of the students receive college admission offers. In the tradition of Christian generosity espoused by its founders, Justin-Siena supports more than one-third of its students with tuition assistance to help families of all economic backgrounds.

The school's commitment to community service has offered students opportunities for service-based learning across our country from San Francisco, to Montana to Arizona. Students also participate in a variety of projects in our community. They work to address the needs of our local migrant farmworkers, contribute to environmental projects that restore ecosystems and help promote natural habitat growth.

Mr. Speaker, Justin-Siena has been a leading institution in our Napa Valley for five decades and has provided generations of students with a world-class education. It is therefore fitting and proper that we honor the school here today.
